Contractor is Ordered To Pay for Cut Trees

Dr. James Hart to Speak At Dedication of Library

Dr. James D. Hart, vice chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, will speak at dedication ceremonies of Orinda's new $117,000 library at 8 p.m. November 14.

The announcement that arrangements have been completed for an official opening of the library, financed by donations from many organizations and individuals during the past four years, was made by Perc S. Brown, president of the Orinda Library Board.

Following the dedication program, which is being arranged by a committee headed by William Fleager, the library will be open for tours of inspection until 11 p.m.

The new building on Orinda Highway will take the place of present quarters in Orinda Community Church. The new 3,500 square foot library will have space for 15,000 books.

BOTH OLD AND new libraries day, November 15 and 16, to perwill be closed Saturday and Sunmit final transfer from the old to new facilities, Brown said.

He pointed out that only about $7,000 is needed to completely furnish the library.

The Orinda Association leased a portion of the old Community Center site to the library for $1 a year, and donations include one of $5,000 raised by the Orinda Fiesta in 1955.

$65,000 Suit Filed Over Bar-B-Q Beef

The Orinda Lions Club barbecue beef is still being batted around not in one, but two, courts.

A suit has been filed in Contra Costa Superior Court by Carl Simon, attorney for Mrs. Lillian Baumgartner, for $65,000 damages against Navy Commander Harold DuVal, 3 Monte Vista Court, Orinda.

DUVAL HAS already surrendered himself on a complaint charging battery issued by the Contra Costa Sheriff's office, according to his attorney, Loy Dale Wright.

That case was postponed by Walnut Creek Judicial District Judge Clifford Thomson after Wright appeared in court asking for a 30-day delay in the trial.

The whole thing started, both civil and criminal complaints, from a melee at the Orinda Lions Club Annual Barbecue at the James Lucas Ranch in Orinda.

MRS. BAUMGARTNER, 15 Van Tassle Lane, says that DuVal slugged her, blackened both her eyes, broke her nose and in other ways "upset her nervous system" during an argument between herself and DuVal's wife, Helen.

The Navy officer said it wasn't that way at all.

He says that Mrs. Baumgartner attacked his wife when she attempted to intervene in a dispute between the Baumgartners.

DUVAL SAYS that he tried to pull Mrs. Baumgartner away as she was pulling Mrs. DuVal's hair. Then, he said, he was forced to hit her to get her off his wife.

Simon said that Mrs. Baumgartner asks $15,000 damages and $50,000 punitive damages.

Xmas in October For Foreign Mail

It is Christmas in October. Seems early, yet for our service personnel, friends and relatives overseas, that day is not too far away.

Laura Mallary, postmaster, today warned that the deadline for overseas mailing for Christmas cards and parcels is fast approaching.

To assure delivery for members of the armed forces in time for Christmas the following deadlines should be observed: Parcels and cards going by surface mail between November 1 and November 20; by air mail, December 1 to December 10.

For other persons living in foreign countries: The Far East, October 15; Near East and Africa, November 1; Europe and South America, November 10.

The post office is now open half an hour earlier than heretofore, Mrs. Mallary announced. Hours are now 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. week days and 8 a.m. to 12 noon Saturdays.

Open House Wins Praise of Firm

"The Orinda Open House was certainly a wonderful and successful event," said Clarice Helm of Country Club Togs in Orinda Village. "The new free parking facilities in The Village proved their worth and are a great asset."

Country Club Togs is extremely popular with Orindans and features such well-known sport clothing for men and women as Pendleton, White Stag, Jantzen and many other lines, fitting into the way of life of the community.

Hacienda Homes Plans Big Road Repaving Project

Plans to repave six miles of road damaged by winter rains have been completed by the Hacienda Homes Board of Directors, O. H. Gardner, chairman, announced yesterday.

The road rebuilding program will be discussed at a meeting of residents of the large subdivision, containing 1029 residences, at a meeting to begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the multipurpose room of Sleepy Hollow School.

"Before letting the contract we want to give everyone concerned a chance to make comments," Gardner said. "Their views might alter our plans, but I think they will be very much for the project."

Arrangements have been completed, Gardner said, to borrow $43,396 for the repaving job from the Central Valley National Bank at 5¾ per cent interest, to be repaid over a six year period.

The loan plus interest, would be paid by increasing assessments against each householder's property by 50 per cent for the next six years.

The amount of the loan represents the lowest bid on the job of several submitted, that of Ransome & Company, and directors plan to award the contract to them, Gardner declared.

"It will be a real rebuilding job," he noted. "Specifications call for two inches of new asphalt, and where necessary roads will be rebuilt from bedrock."

It was estimated that the special assessment will provide $4500 in addition to the $9000 now being paid annually by property owners.

Repaving, Gardner noted, should be started this year before the rains come, and can be completed before December 1 if arrangements are completed immediately.

Board of Directors Takes Initiative on Pine Grove

The Board of Directors of the Orinda Union School District has agreed to accept $1806 from a construction company for felling 16 trees on property of the Pine Grove School.

The offer from the Bay Shore Construction Company, which cut down the trees while clearing adjacent property for Associated Investment Company, was accepted at the board meeting Tuesday night.

The settlement includes an agreement that the construction firm remove stumps and fallen trees from the site.

The board asked the County Board of Supervisors to "seriously consider" the installation of signals at the junction of El Toyonal and Orinda Way with the bypass highway, to protect school children crossing at that point.

At the request of the California School Boards Association, Orinda trustees adopted a resolution opposing Proposition 17 on the November ballot, declaring that its passage would reduce funds available to schools by "adversely affecting the state's financial structure."

A call was issued for bids on grading the site for Inland Valley School, near Ivy Drive in the Rheem area. Bids will be opened November 3.

Superintendent Joseph Sheaff reported that enrollment in the district is now at an all-time high of 3,000, and that 350 children each day are using the cafeterias at Pine Grove and Sleepy Hollow schools.

Directors voted to make the summer school a part of the regular educational program of the district "provided it is within the financial limits of the district when the budget is made."

The board will hold a special meeting October 16 to open bids for the grading and filling of the site for the Glorietta addition.

The board also approved financial agreements with Walnut Creek for education of visually handicapped children, with Mt. Diablo for care of those with cerebral palsy, and with Oakland for children attending special schools there.

$59,000 Extra For Orinda Roads

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday authorized $59,400 in additional road repair monies for Orinda streets.

Projects and amounts are as follows:

Sleepy Hollow Lane, $3,900; East Altarinda, $7,700; Via Floreado, $4,300; Charles Hill Road, $12,600; Camino Sobrante, $1,600; Monte Vista, $3,700; Canyon Road, $10,000; Fish Ranch Road, $4,000; and Loma Linda and Ardor Drive, $11,600.

The work will be done by Cleverdon and Company and O. C. Jones and Sons, contractors already at work on the projects.

The new appropriations cover installation of underground drains and filter blankets not contemplated when contracts were let for repair of slipouts and slides.

Orinda Educator Cited in Death Of Oakland Lady

Dr. Kent Friel, 55 Boblink Road, Orinda, was cited by Oakland Police for violating a pedestrian's right of way after striking a woman in a pedestrian crosswalk, according to an Oakland police report.

Police said an investigation would be continued after learning of the death of Mrs. Lucille Snyder, of 3257 Dakota Street, Oakland.

She died in Providence Hospital of injuries suffered when she was struck by the car driven by the Oakland schools assistant in research for engineering and architecture, the police report stated.

Human Emotions In Still Life Is Local Photographer's Philosophy

By BILL HINES

"The mechanics and technique of photography are unimportant to a photographer as compared to his knowledge and understanding of human beings. Human emotions and the human struggle are my concern photographically."

That's the philosophy of 40-year-old Wayne Miller, an Orindan whose 20-year career as a successful photographer will be marked this month by publication of a book of photographs of children, "The World Is Young."

"Learning the mechanics of photography can be compared to learning to type," Miller said. "Just as it takes more than a typist's skill to write a book, it takes more than technique to take good photograph."

"Wherever there are people, I can find pictures," he added. "I don't have to go to Timbuctoo to find drama—I can find all the drama in the world right here in Orinda."

Miller was a successful photographer in Chicago, doing free lance work for many national magazines, when, in 1949, he and his wife, Joan, decided to move to Orinda.

They might have chosen almost anywhere in the world to live, and, in his profession, living near the publishing center of New York would have had many advantages.

"We found Orinda ideal in many ways," Miller pointed out. schools, it was a young community, close to a center of "We liked the climate and the thinking—the University of California—and made other parts of California easily accessible."

Miller's career as a photographer began 20 years ago at the University of Illinois, where he was a major in banking, when he began taking pictures for the university newspaper and other college-sponsored publications.

After studying at the Art Center School in Los Angeles, he served as a lieutenant in a Navy photographic unit from 1942 to 1946, working with famed photographer Edward Steichen, and taking war pictures in the Pacific, Africa, Southern France, and India.

Steichen became a close friend of the Miller family, and often visits them at their Orinda home. A photograph taken of the Millers by Steichen is used as the frontispiece of Miller's new book.

A memory of the war years that sticks with Miller is that of being one of the first two persons—the other was a member of his photographic unit—to enter Hiroshima after the atom bomb was dropped.

"The remarkable thing was that the survivors had no resentment against us—they didn't even give us a dirty look," Miller recalled.

As the recipient of a Guggenheim scholarship, Miller later spent 18 months in a photographic study of the way of life of Northern Negroes.

Before moving to Orinda in 1949, Miller was an instructor at the Institute of Design in Chicago, and did free lance work in advertising and for magazines including Vogue, Life, and Fortune.

In 1953 the Millers left Orinda for a time when he was called to New York as an assistant to Steichen, director of the department of photography of the Museum of Modern Art.

The project with which he helped Steichen was one of the jobs he's proudest of—the selection of photographs which went into the "Family of Man" photographic exhibit and book.

Over a million copies of the book have been sold, and the exhibition has been shown throughout the world.

"My wife, Joan, has helped me a lot in my work," Miller said. "Thank goodness she doesn't take photographs. But she's an honest critic, and she's helped me keep my sense of balance."

Local Children Pictured In Book by Orinda Man

Ten pages in the current issue of Life magazine are devoted to children's photographs selected from "The World Is Young," a book by Wayne Miller of Orinda, to be published later this month.

Life, in this accolade to one of the nation's top photographers, chose chiefly the pictures of his own youngsters—Peter, Dana, David and Jeanette, ranging in age from 10 to 14.

The memorable photographs in "The World Is Young" were all taken in Orinda, of local youngsters in the classroom, at play in the school yard, and at home.

BUT WHILE this book of revealing pictures has a special local interest, their appeal is universal, because they depict the emotions of children everywhere.

It is an intimate book, photographed and written by a man who obviously knows and loves children. Miller started work on it three years ago.

"On a summer morning I watched the children playing and once in a while their actions made a picture and I took it," he explains. "It had been going on like this for about a week, and this day one of them finally looked up and said, 'Daddy, how much longer are you going to make pictures of us before you go to work.'

"THAT MOMENT three years ago was the real beginning of this book. The idea I had thought about so long and circled so warily and put aside so often now seemed a clear challenge. The pictures I was taking had a reason and a point: I had begun a photographic exploration of the world of childhood."

He depicts children happy and sad, lonely and playing together, angry and pleased, affectionate and quarreling. It is a very real world that is captured by Miller's lens, and there are no stereotypes or posed pictures.

At one time, Miller said, he considered attempting to picture children of the world, and then of children across the United States. But he made what is obviously the wise decision in choosing "the family and the community I know and understand the best."

THE BOOK begins with pictures of each of his children at home, with the section for each child. Then, as the youngsters begin to go to school, the camera follows them, depicting the world of children into which they enter.

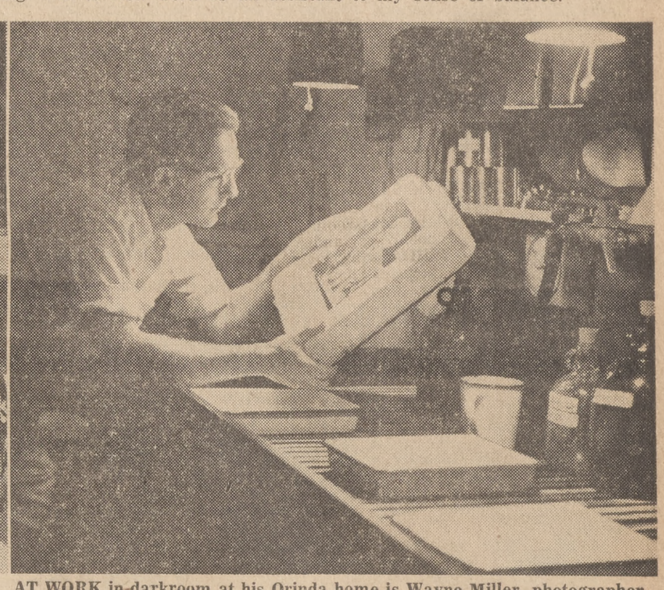
Miller began taking a 35mm camera with him constantly. Members of his family were already used to picture-taking, and were not conscious of it. Before long, at Orinda schools, he became "a familiar and unremarkable part of the day."

The photographs themselves show that the youngsters pictured were not conscious of his presence. Many pictures have no captions, and need none. Where captions are used, they are often quotations from remarks of youngsters themselves: "When I Grow Up, Will I Be a Girl Or a Boy?"—"In the Sixth Grade, You Get Down to Business"—"They Tell You to Act Your Age and Then They Get Mad."

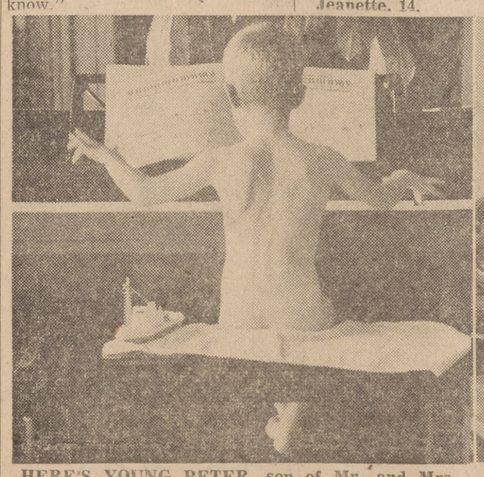
ONE DAY, while photographing kindergarten children, Miller realized that he was a giant compared with them, and from then on took pictures at the children's eye-level, "so that they and the things around them would be seen in a proper context."

The book, the author says, "perhaps shows that others often think and feel as we do, that the need to love and be loved is in everyone, that each of us would rather succeed than fail, would rather know than not know."

HAVING THEIR pictures taken is a familiar experience for children of Wayne Miller, shown with camera in patio of his Orinda home. A spread of photos of his youngsters appear in current issues of Life. They are from left, Dana, 10; Peter, 7; David, 12, and Jeanette, 14.



AT WORK in darkroom at his Orinda home is Wayne Miller, photographer for many national magazines, whose book, "The World Is Young," featuring pictures of Orinda youngsters in school and at play, is scheduled for publication October 23. —Sun photos by Rod Lomas.



HERE'S YOUNG PETER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller of Orinda, practicing piano in his birthday suit. This is one of many Miller photographs of Orinda children which will appear in "The World Is Young."

MILLER WAS able to get unposed pictures of youngsters in Orinda classrooms, he explains, by letting them get used to his presence. This scene is in sixth grade at Glorietta School. Children themselves suggested captions for his pictures. This one is called, "In the Sixth Grade You Get Down to Business."

THIS IS ANOTHER photo which will appear in Miller's forthcoming book, "When the World Is Young." Just what boy in Pine Grove School seventh grade was doing the photographer doesn't know. "I was more interested in how they felt and showed their feelings," he explained.

Board Peeks at Proposed $470 Million Road Plan

Contra Costa County's Supervisors got a peek yesterday morning at proposed $470 million road program to be in effect by 1980 .

The peek came in the form of the first interim report of the Tudor Engineering Company of San Francisco.

ALTHOUGH NO formal action will be taken on the interim report as such, Victor Sauer, public works director of the county, said that it was the desire of the Tudor firm, county and cities to cooperate as much as possible in the study of every facet of transportation before sending the report to press.

The county ordered the report done by the Tudor company in July, 1957, after doling out $160,000 for the study.

The report is a functional plan of the basic system of freeway and major corrections showing routes requiring new construction, routes requiring expansion of existing facilities and existing highways or highways under constructon, according to Ralph Tudor.

INCLUDED IN THE interim report is a tabulation of data pertinent to each route proposed by the Tudor firm.

The date tabulated includeds, route numbers, description and lengths of elements, assigned traffic values for 1980 and 1958 type of facility and lane requirements, right of way and construction costs estimates and basis for recommending routes and the reasons why the specific types were recommended.

A number of maps were presented to the supervisors yesterday morning including a map entitled "Population Growth Estimate for Contra Costa."

THIS MAP shows the breakdown of population by origin and destination zones for 1958, 1953, 1980 and ultimate population saturation of the county.

Other maps show projected land used to 1980 and a 1980 trip desire chart for the county.

The latter map shows the relative traffic desire densities for Contra Costa by means of "contour lines" connecting points of equal trip route densities.

Sauer commented that although the report is based on the year 1980, in some areas 1980 may come within five or less years.

SAUER'S COMMENTS were based on the fact that some areas of the county will develop rapidly with the construction of some roads while others will grow because of the availability of water or similar developments which can not now be foreseen.

The methods used to develop and analyze the basic data which led to the recommendations, Tudor stated, included the collecting and analyzing of all pertinent available information.

This data included road inventories, orgin and destination studies, traffic volume counts, accident records, population records and projections, motor vehicle registration figures, transit reports and schedules and area planning studies.

ROAD HIGHWAY and street planning studies, special project studies such as the Brown and Caldwell report for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, construction cost figures, and roadway design standards.

The Tudor firm, in addition to its maps and written studies included aerial photo "stereo pairs" and mosaics with contour maps to lay out routes to make up the freeway and expressway system for the county.

Association Nominates Directors

New directors for four areas will be nominated to the Orinda Association Board of Directors at a meeting of October 20 in Orinda Union School.

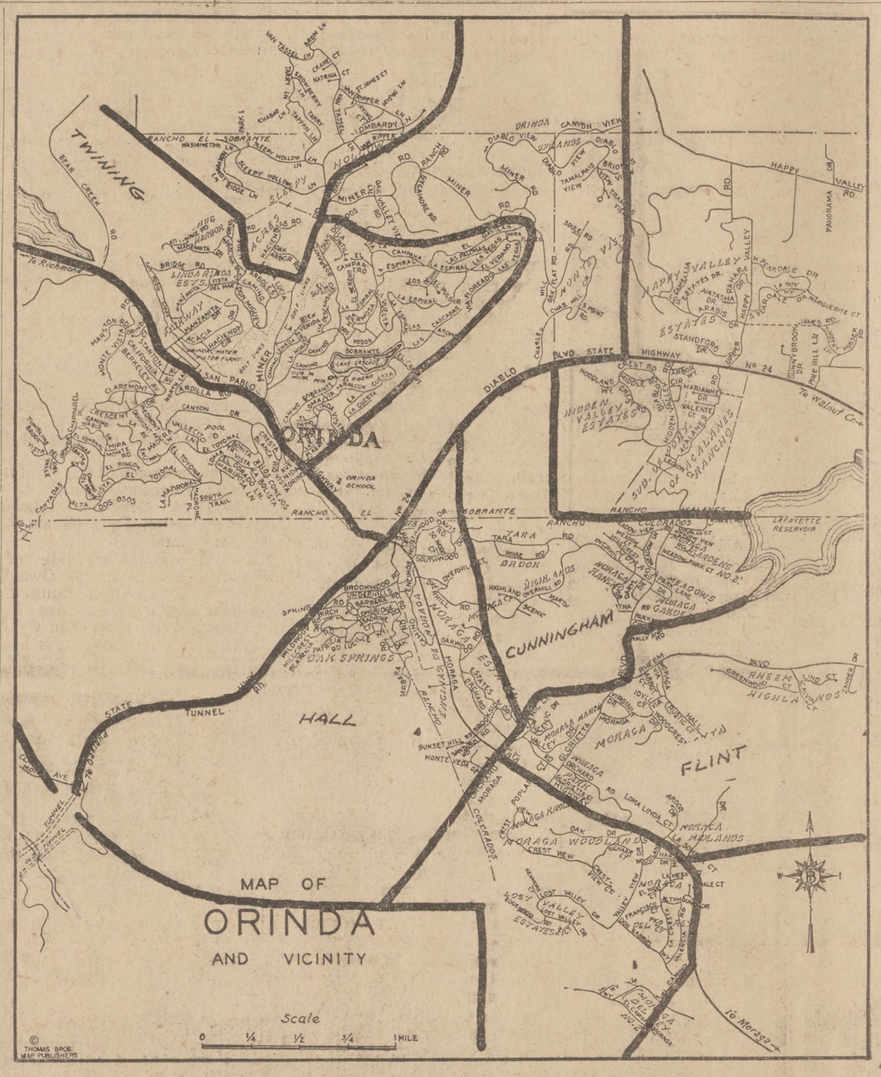
The names of current directors and a description of the districts from which nominations for their successors will be received are as follows:

Ralph Hall—Oak Springs, Encinas de Moraga, Moraga Estates, Warford Mesa, and the remaining area west of Moraga Highway and north of Monte Veda Drive.

Norman Cunningham — Tara Brook, Moraga Highlands, Broadview Tract, Orinda Hills, Moraga Meadows, Moraga Gardens, and the remaining area east of Moraga Highway and north of Glorietta Boulevard, except Moraga Estates and Moraga Manor.

Art Flint—Moraga Park, Moraga Glorietta, Sally-Ann Meadows, Rheem Highlands, Moraga Manor, Rheem Veiw Acres, Moraga Midlands, and the remaining area south of Glorietta Boulevard as far as Glorietta School, east of Moraga Highway and along to the north of Hall Drive.

Fred Twining — Haciendas del Orinda, Sung Harbor, Orinda Estates, Orinda Court, Orinda Villa Park (east of Orinda Highway), and Linda Rinda Estates.



MAP ABOVE SHOWS areas now represented on Orinda Association Board of Directors by Ralph Hall, Norman Cunningham, Art Flint, and Fred Twining. Their terms are expiring. Nominations for directors to represent these districts will be made at a meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee on the evening of October 20 in Orinda Union School.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Named

First place in duplicate bridge play at Orinda Country Club went to F. J. Federighi and Mrs. Douglas Manuel with 91½. Tied for second and third with 90 each were the Mesdames Don Thompson and Thelma Doyle, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bentley.

Congratulations To Al Baer

Hats off to Al Baer, chairman of the Merchants Commitee of the Chamber of Commerce, for a top-notch job of organizing the Orinda Open House!

Estimates show that about 2,000 persons visited stores here during the celebration, learning more about the community in which they live and making friends with each other.

It was a friendly, downright neighborly occasion, and Baer deserves a lot of credit for attending to all the details that made it possible.

Candidates' Moment of Truth Looms October 29 At Sun's Politico Night

The moment of truth for political candidates will be Wednesday night, October 29, at 8 when The Sun's Candidates' Night gets underway.

Present at the public meeting will be candidates for sheriff county school superintendent 10th district assembly, sixth congressional district and judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District.

ONE SURE WAY to find out first hand, for yourself, who will make the best official is to attend the candidates night, October 29.

A timekeeper from the Mt. Diablo Toastmasters Club with a fast hand on the buzzer will be present to see that no candidate exceeds his alloted 10 minutes at the microphone.

In addition to speaking time, each candidate will be allowed rebuttal time after his opponent has spoken.

A QUESTION and answer period will be held when written questions from the audience will be accepted.

Since this candidates' night will be held just preceding the November 4 elections, this will, in all probability, be your last chance to meet the candidates personally

Why not plan to make it a family affair?

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

It Happened in Monterey

THE FIRST JAZZ FESTIVAL of top-name sounds and syncopations collected together the MOST, we mean THE MOST, mixed-up crowd of cats we've ever seen together Anywheres. We felt like Squares.

The children were along and come to think of it, they were the only jr.-sized jazzbos we saw all weekend. They had the time of their lives playing the game of "Beaver". You know how it goes. If a couple of kids are together and one sees a man with a beard, he punches the other one until HE sees the bearded man and hollers "Beaver", too. Well, what a perfect excuse for soundly belting each other. We hadn't planned on THAT. But it sure kept 'em busy. Watching the whiskers roll by. Rock & Roll by, that is.

FROM DIXIELAND on Friday nite to Sunday's Symphonic sounds, the music was Wonderful! But you really had to be a fanaddict to stick with it. It was real cool, Man. And we mean Cool! We near froze to death. Perhaps the prevalence of beards and fresh stubble from Salinas and environs on all the young unscrubbed faces was to ward off a wind rash. A camel hair coat came in handy . . . even a ratty raccoon, of which we saw two, but you were smart if you brought along a horse blanket. Or better, the horse.

And All That Kind of Jazz

But back to the bearded weirdies. We tried to concentrate on the music but found ourselves unconsciously counting the fuzzy chins and cheeks going by, mainly on college boys, but now and then, an authentic full-grown set of Woolcott whiskers on some sensitive-faced poet or Polecat. (And, the hair styles, oh Man!) We figured it like when all we natives wore Cowboy hats for the SF World's Fair, the Natives down there just wanted to look right in the groove. Or featured themselves as future Mitch Millers.

THE THRONG WAS FASCINATING. Beatniks, Chicniks, Chas. Adams characters by the foreign carload, dignified old dowagers dipsy-doodling their way to their seats, conservative businessmen hep to the hip, sweatered and leotarded guys and gale bouncing to the beat, like victims of Palsy, emaciated-looking long-haired ladies (we kept thinking "Vampira!") And all this mixed up with Minks and Models, Herb Caen and Sports cars, wildclothes and colors, the Ivy League Lookers and the Carmel Nobobs in and out, back and forth, yoo-hooing! one another, coming to be Seen and Heard!

OH, YES, THE MUSIC . . . Dizzy Gillespie on hand the whole weekend, the Festival's Diplomat, dropping in at the toot of his trumpet, ready with wit and his one-keyed voice and spontaneous quips making the audience laugh long and hard . . . As a plane from the nearby airport roared low overhead, he yelled "Duck Everybody, here comes Faubus" and when he was pleased with applause, he sashayed across stage saying I'll never go back to Little Rock". He ended a jazzy little arrangement of Sunny Side of the Street with "I'll be as rich as Eisenhower-Goldfine at my feet, On the Sunny Side of the Street."

Dave Bruebeck's brother Howard borrowed the baton temporarily from gifted Gregory Millar to conduct the Little Symphony (70 pieces) in several original comps which we hope will be available on record. Brubeck's own "Summersong" remindful of Gershwin genius, the Combo's special treatment of their tour impressions of Eurasia—interpretive jazz identifying the countries, the piano Chopin-ish in Poland-part. Exciting listening! Jerry Mulligan, Max Roach, Harry James in top form!

A FOGGY DAY in Monterey, but having a ball for themselves, Jeri and Al Clement, having left the children with her mother who lives in Carmel. The Clements attended both the Saturday afternoon and evening concerts, enjoying, too, the many other diversions offered on the attractive Fairgrounds studded with oaks, artworks, a thick carpet of rolling lawn . . . The attractive booths and buildings housing Art Exhibits, jazz forums, Ampex sound display, a Sportscar show. The Clements, like us, ducking out before the late 1 a.m. finish of Cal Tjader's Afro-Cuban group. Too much low fog and high chill.

ON THE STREETS OF CARMEL . . . Ernest and Mary Ann Kahl of La Espiral, THEY taking along the boys for a stay at Dolores Lodge and then out to Italian dinner at Cadementori's preconcert. Saw the Thomas Barrows in Town. They retired THERE from our suburban scene about a year ago. Over in Pacific Grove, John and Nina Almond of Orinda Park Manor, were weekending at their sand-hill seaside house, sat in box seats on Saturday nite. We hailed Chris Almond Sunday chatting with Judy Howes who perused her program in the long line up while we all took our lunch by turns. EVERYONE agreed it was an ideal way to present the Best in Jazz and it's hoped the Sun will shine on next year's Second show. Reluctantly we left the Sunday concert mid-way. The game of Beaver for the young fry got a little out of hand. You dig me?

Do You Dig This Beat, Daddy-O

FALL FALLS UPON US . . . A rash of plaid long pants suddenly appearing around town on legs that not too long ago looked bare and brown in briefs and bathing suits . . . Children shivering at bus stops, Sans sweaters and sunback dresses STILL . . . And boys averse to ANYTHING but t-shirts and jeans, trying to look as if the cold didn't bother them at all . . . "You cold, Son?" . . . "n-n-n-n-n-no!"

BANKS of St. Johnswort (Hypericum), yellowing and russet-leaved, managing to keep a trim appearance while most Maple trees, minus leaves now, are simply shivering in their shoots! The leaves come tumbling down and if you're from the East, trample up a driveway of full of crisp crunchy leaves and you're as good as home in Connecticut again!

Chilly mornings and the furnace is on, the fireplace lit, tho' by noon sometimes you're sweltering and outside in your sunsuit again. We've switched from that cold sawdust-cereal stuff to hot mush. MUSH! And that's an old-fashioned word but no better one to describe the creamy goo we concoct for the young 'uns before they face the sudden cold of a first Fall Day. And reading the other day a Health mag article titled "What America Needs Is A Decent Breakfast", we wondered!

IT'S NOT THAT easy for Mother to down more than the coffee. By the time she's buttered the toast, scrambled the eggs, burned the bacon, sewed on a button, located last nite's homework, tasted the tuna-makings for the lunchbox sandwiches (Ugh! at 7 a.m. in the morning!) and wiped up the milk spilled from kitty's saucer, WHO can think of food? Not until the syrup drips and dried egg blobs have been swept away is it humanly possible for the Lady of the House to settle down with a neat slice of toast and a pristine-looking egg. That's how it goes here, and how about YOU?

They Were Real Gone, Far Out

HEP to the Hill 'n Dale Dance at Orinda Country Club last Saturday nite were Karen and Jack Sexson, the Ernest Fernstens, Shirley and Hi Hennings, the Woody Lambs, Jack Lackeys, Fred Crawshaws, John Gompertzes, etcet . . . To mention another group, the Jack Coopers there with Aly and Lloyd Rasmussen and still more Rasmussens, Rudy and Gloria. Aly and Lloyd were telling of the GASSER of a Gay Housewarming Surprise for their daughter Peg and her husband Bob Field who recently moved into their handsome new "Pad" in Altarinda. Tropical ferns and Japanese pines were gifted by the guests to grace the new contemporary garden and instigators of the Real Gone surprise (hubby Bob was abed nursing a cold!) were El and Charles Scudder of WC.

THESE CATS WERE REAL GONE, FAR OUT, for instance . . . The Henry Soubielles just home from 3 weeks in the Oregon-Wash. region . . . ditto the Chandler Barkelews who had a holiday by themselves and saw September along the coastal route to Washington. Jane and Bob Lester are heading for another convention, contact lenses and nice contracts, in St. Paul this month and home from Europe are Faye and Hoppy Hopkins who we hear, had a taste of Foreign Intrigue in Paris someplace with spies and sabotage, policeman and guns popping all around them, a real BLAST. But they're home safe to tell about it. Due home too, this week from their globe-trotting, the Bert McFarlands who flew from England on Wednesday . . . Marian Nelson who accompanied them earlier, on the first lap of their travels, purchased a handsome knit sweater in a Scandinavia country which you'll wish YOU had when you see her sporting it some nippy, zippy morning.

Garden Club Gives Landscape Plans

Plans for landscaping the new Orinda Library will be paid for by the Orinda Garden Club, which in addition, will spend $1000 for library grounds.

The decision to help in the library's landscaping program was made by the club at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Roger Stark, president.

Mrs. Woodburn Lamb is chairman for the project. She will be assisted by Mrs. F. K. Bottomley, Mrs. W. B. Kilgo, Mrs. Joseph Lang, and Mrs. Fred Crawshaw.

Mrs. Lamb reported that a landscaping plan for the library is being drawn by Robert Babcock, landscape architect, showing detailed planting and suitable plants.

The club's offer will make it possible to have some landscaping done before the dedication ceremonies in November, and to get in some of the basic planting and ground cover before the winter rains.

"However, to complete the entire plan will far exceed $1000," said Mrs. Lamb. "Therefore it is hoped that there are still individuals or organizations who have not already donated to the Library Fund who would like to help with this landscaping or contribute, in memoriam, certain specified shrubs or trees."

One of the first contributions received by the Orinda Garden Club was made by the men of the Fire Department in the Orinda Village.

"Their check will certainly be put to good use in buying plants and trees needed," Mrs. Lamb said.

Poison Plants Are Numerous In Central Area

"One well-chewed castor bean can kill a child," is the warning issued by Dr. W. A. Ketterer, assistant county health officer.

"This week a Concord child lay ill in County Hospital after sampling some of his neighbor's castor beans.

"Many persons in Contra Costa County grow the beautiful castor plant, often unaware that the beans are deadly poison. Furthermore, with the coming of fall the plants all have mature beans," he said.

All parents should caution their children about these plants. The poisonous bean resembles the navy bean, its mottled covering may lend some protection if the bean is merely swallowed.

However, when the bean is chewed, its poison is released and does serious damage to the red blood cells of the body.

"There are hundreds of poisonous plants," Ketterer added. "Among them the oleander,, poppy, lupin, foxglove, privet berries. Jerusalem cherry and poison oak."

Each year the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association poison information center gets scores of inquiries about these and others.

The only way to prevent plant poisonings is to eat only recognized foods. and to teach children not to make believe with other plants or substances.

Smog Board Lashes Out

A resolution was passed Wednesday by the board of directors of the six-county Bay Area Air Pollution Control District endorsing the resolution formulated by the County Supervisors Association of California, which names the motor vehicle as "the only presently uncontrollable major source" of air pollution.

In addition to asking the federal government to ascertain "safe standards" of air pollution concentrations, the resolution states that the primary responsibility of abatement of this source rests with motor vehicle manufacturers, and calls upon the motor vehicle manufacturing industry of the United States to report on current and anticipated work toward the solution of the problem.

CONTROL OFFICER Benjamin Linsky called the Board's attention to the first public hearings on emissions to be covered by regulation 2, which were scheduled to begin Wednesday in the Caliornia Academy of Sciences auditorium, Golden Gate Park.

Linsky's report also included summaries of recent technical division work, compliance and enforcement of regulation 1, and information regarding the National Conference on Air Pollution to be November 18-20 in Washington, D. C.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Chairman William Gnoss, Supervisor from Marin County, presented an inscribed redwood gavel and resolution of appreciation to former chairman William Blake, San Francisco county supervisor.

COMMENDATORY resolutions were also presented to former vice chairman Ivan T. Goyak, supervisor from Contra Costa county, and former secretary of the board Weldon L. Richards, city councilman from Berkeley.

Charges Dropped By Judge Against J. Allen Madison

A charge against J. Allen Madison, 75 Alberta Terrace, Walnut Creek, alleging violation of the State Corporations Code was dismissed October 6 by Contra Costa Superior Court Judge Norman A. Gregg in Martinez.

The suit was dismissed on the motion of Deputy District Attorney Mortimer B. Veale who said there is a civil suit pending against Madison and asked the dismissal in the "furtherance of justice."

MADISON, A CENTRAL county real estate operator, had pleaded innocent to a charge that he acted as a commission agent for convicted stock swindler John Bunce, Jr. of Orinda.

The long standing charges, stemmed from a civil complaint against Bunce, Madison, the Pacific State Securities Corporation (Bunce was the firm's vice president); Thomas F. J. Carroll, president of the firm and William B. Acton, secretary of the firm and a former assistant district attorney in San Francisco.

THE $81,570 SUIT was filed by Mrs. Eleanor Haller of Lafayette, widow of contractor Paul Haller, who committed suicide after his losses in the "Bunce Stock Market."

Criminal action proceedings against Madison were filed shortly after Bunce was sentenced to prison for one to ten years for grand theft and one to five years for infractions of the state corporations security laws.

Madison was charged with receiving compensation in negotiating sales of securities without obtaining a license from the State Corporation Commission.

EBMUD To Sponsor Bill On WaterFluoridation

East Bay Municipal Utility District, which has opposed efforts to have drinking water fluoridated on grounds that it is not legally empowered to do so, will sponsor legislation specifically giving it such power at the next session of the legislature.

The disclosure that EBMUD's legal department has prepared a draft of the proposed legislation was made in an interview with Herman Silverman, publisher of The Sun, by Louis J. Breuner, president of the district's board of directors, and Harold W. Saunders, a member of the board.

The proposed law would authorize a municipal utility district to conduct an election of the voters of the district for their decision as to whether or not they want the local water supply fluoridated, and also authorizes the district to fluoridate water if voters approve.

Asked if the board planned not only to have such legislation introduced, but to work for its passage, Breuner replied, "Yes. We will push for passage of the bill. We are willing to let the voters decide, through an election, whether they want fluoridation."

Four years ago a bill attempting to clarify the legal position of a utility district in regard to fluoridation was introduced in the legislature, but after being amended in the Senate was withdrawn.

Efforts of different East Bay groups over many years to get EBMUD either to fluoridate the water supply or to call for an election authorizing an election on fluoridation have always brought the claim from the district that the law does not now give it the authority to do either.

Orinda Candidates Lead In Pacific Queen Race

First place in the race for the title of Queen of the Pacific at the Children's Hospital of the East Bay Flower Headdress Ball is held now by Mrs. Owen Owens with 4100 votes. The announcement of Mrs. Owens' position in the contest was made by Mrs. Wm. Harold Oliver, general chairman of the hospital branches.

The candidate of Acorn Branch, Mrs. Owens lives in Orinda. Her campaign is being managed by Mrs. Lane Currie and Mrs. Edwin Graham.

Second place is held by Mrs. Victor Graber, who has 3900 votes. Linden Jr.'s candidate, Mrs. Graber has as her campaign manager Mrs. Carl W. Smith. Mrs. Graber is also an Orinda resident.

Seven other candidates are involved in competition for the Queen's crown, which will be worn during the 1'lower Headdress Ball, Pageant of the Pacific, at the Hotel Claremont on October 25. All proceeds from both the contest and the ball will benefit the part pay and research program at Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Handsome Greeting Cards Have Cancer Fight Theme

The Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society this year has designed two handsome greeting cards which will notify recipients that the sender has made a gift to advance cancer control.

The red or green cards now are available for order through the county branch of the cancer society at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek, Dr. Frederick A. Pelligrin, branch president, announced today.

So that funds contributed may be used almost entirely for cancer research, education and service, the cards, although attractive and seasonal, will be low-cost, Dr. Pellegrin emphasized.

THE GREEN ON white card is traditional in design, the red on white card more contemporary design. Both may be ordered in quantity and may be mailed as a regulation post card.

the sender and honor the receiver

"Either cards will distinguish by including in a message of good will, a gift of importance in combatting the disease which today strikes one in every four Americans now alive," Dr. Pellegrin said.

The local cancer society president pointed out that the price of the special cards is for the purchaser to determine, but that the total should be not less than $10 per 100 cards.

"The amount usually spent for holiday greeting cards might be a guide in arriving at an appropriately sized sum in this case, plus the fact that all gifts will be used in the struggle against cancer," Dr. Pellegrin explained.

GIFTS TO THE American Cancer Society are tax deductible. Orders for the cards should be placed as soon as possible to facilitate early delivery, he said.

Delegates from Contra Costa county are attending the annual California Division conference in San Francisco this week. Overall theme of the state meeting is "The Role of the American Cancer Society in Cancer Control" and local delegates will tackle problems of research, fund raising, public and professional education and service to cancer patients.

Local representatives who will report on various aspects of the state convention at the Contra Costa county executive committee meeting next Wednesday, in addition to Dr. Pellegrin, are Mrs. Helen G. Marfarlane of Orinda, executive director of the county branch; Mrs. Harold Powell and Mrs. Leroy W. Sowers of Lafayette; Mrs. Roy Goranson of Danville, Mrs. Charles Karp and Mrs. John Flannery of Concord, and Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth of Orinda.

Broadway Bid 'N Buy Quiz Offers $Thousand$ in Gifts

"Thousands of dollars worth of merchandise is now on display in the Broadway Bid-'N-Buy Showcase in front of the Lucky Food Store in the Broadway Shopping Center," according to Sal Blasquez of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The display is part of the Bid 'n Buy Contest being sponsored by the Broadway Merchants Association during the Seventh Birthday Party.

"PARTICIPATING firms in the birthday celebration are displaying quality merchandise in the showcase and the person who guesses the most accurate total retail value of all the gifts will be awarded everything in the showcase," Blasquez said.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for residents to enter a contest which is lots of fun and in reality is so easy to win." He noted.

"All that is necessary to win," Blasquez pointed out, "is for a person to pick up an entry blank at any of the participating stores, fill out the blanks with the estimate of the total retail cost of all items, excluding the showcase, and return the blank," said Blasquez.

THE SHOW CASE is a $351 greenhouse and will be given as a bonus prize to the person who wins the Bid 'n Buy contest.

The public will learn who the winner of all the gifts is October 18, the last day of the celebration, at 4 p.m.

WC District Judge Favors Ring to Succeed

Walnut Creek Judicial District Judge Clifford Thomson announced this week that he is supporting Terence Ring for his post.

Thomson said that he considers Ring "well qualified" for the job and added, "He has been a friend of mine for years."

Thomson said that he is not in favor in the conversion of his court into a municipal court in the near future, and added that the Concord Municipal Court also serves this area.

Ring has said that he does not favor the change at this time. His opponent, attorney Mrs. Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn, has stated that she favors the change.

Both Ring and Mrs. Rahn are Walnut Creek attorneys. They were the two candidites in a field of 10 who collected the most votes in the primary elections.

Mrs. Rahn is being supported by the Business and Professional Women and other local groups.

County To Budget One Month Ahead Of Schedule

Contra Costa County will attempt to set its burdget about one month ahead of the schedule in recent years. The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors adopted a recommendation of the County Taxpayers Association and Assistant County Administrator Joseph McBrien to have the preliminary budget ready for adoption by July 1, 1959.

D. M. Teeter, county administrator, said that changes in state law governing assessment procedures, if adopted, will assist the county in budgeting for year in advance of the start of the fiscal year, July 1, instead of 30 to 60 days after the start of the fiscal year.

The meeting was held in the district assembly room in the Flood Building.

General Manager John M. Peirce said the purpose of the study would be to obtain detailed information on tax resources to guide the district in arriving at a plan of financing the proposed rapid transit system.

Are Sin. Disease. and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science Services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon is this Golden Text: "Salvation belongeth unto the Lord; thy blessing is upon thy people" (Psalms 3:8).

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (206: 36-28): "Instead of God sending sickness and death, He destroys them, and brings to light immortality."

From the King James Version of the Bible the following will be read: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind" (II Timothy 1:7).

Baptist

In the absence of our pastor, Dr. John R. Dunkin, Th. Fall Musicale At Church Features Janet Goodman

The Fall Musicale of the Orinda Community Church on Friday evening, October 10, at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall will feature Janet Goodman, Berkeley pianist who, in 1958, as winner of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation Award played with the San Francisco Symphony, and as winner of the San Francisco Patron of Arts Music Award, played with the San Francisco Chamber Players at the Palace of Legion of Honor.

At the age of 5, Miss Goodman, who is a junior at the University of California, began the study of piano with her father, Roy Goodman. At the age of 10, she studied with Madame Rosina Lhevine, then wtih Alexander Liebmann, and currently is studying with Marcus Gordon.

Since 1952, Miss Goodman has won 10 scholarships and awards. Her concert experience includes solo piano recitals throughout Oregon, Washington, and California. She has been soloist with the San Francisco Sympnony on the "Pops" series under Arthur Fiedler, several times soloist with the same Symphony on the Youth Series under the direction of Earl Murray, twice bill soloist with the Oakland Symphony, and also as soloist with the Spokane Philharmonic Orchestra. Last March Miss Goodman was soloist with the San Francisco Symphony under direction of Enrique Jorda.

Also appearing at the Musicale will be Kenneth Wohn, Orinda tenor. Mr. Wohn, who has studied with Mynard Jones and Joseph Klein, appeared as tenor soloist in "The Messiah" at the Orinda Community Church last fall. Mr. Wohn has done solo work in Southern California, in the Bay Area, and has sung with the Orpheus Singers of Oakland.

In addition to Miss Goodman and Mr. Wohn, the Orinda Community Church Chorus will sing several numbers under the direction of Maurice Ellison and accompanied by Stephen Lohr.

The Musicale, sponsored by the music committee of the Orinda Community Church, will benefit the fund for the organ for the new sanctuary now being built at the Church site. Admission will be by donation.

This Is A Gasser! But It's Not Really So Amusing

Is the gas tank on your automobile full?

If it isn't, it's probably because you are out of money. It's certainly not because you haven't had the opportunity to fill it.

As one civic leader from Pleasant Hill put it recently, "You don't ever have to worry about running out of gas because you can spit from gas station to gas station."

This wasn't too much of an overstatement, either. Between Geary Road and Doray Drive there are 14 gas stations.

FIGURE IT OUT. It would take you about three months to patronize each station if you had your tank filled at each one in turn. That's what you call a competitive business!

Of course, all the rest of our beautiful communities are in the same fix. Where there used to be one gas station in the Orinda Village there are now five—the original gas station and garage and four new ones.

That's not counting the four gas stations on the Crossroads side.

Lafayette is lit up at night like Reno, and you can see your way down Mt. Diablo Boulevard by the light from the service stations.

The Walnut Creek Planning Commission has followed a general policy recently of denying permits for any more gas stations in the downtown area on the basis that it is not the highest use of the land.

WELL, LET'S FACE IT. You've got to have gas in your car, and it's nice to get a lube job once in a while too. Service stations are just what the name indicates . . . stations for service of your car.

Besides, most of the guys that run the stations are nice fellows. They live just down the street from you and me, and they have kids, too. They certainly are not two-headed monsters!

The only trouble is, we've already got twice as many service stations as we need, and every time you turn around they're digging a hole for another one.

As one local resident phrased it, "It seems to be the policy of the county board of supervisors to erect a tin monster on every street corner."

Another trouble with this problem is that the guy who gets hurt frequently turns out to be the local businessman . . . the guy around the corner who leases the gas station.

HIS COMPETITION increases, he has nothing to say about it, they build a more modern station on the next corner, a gas war comes along because somebody starts to go under, and there you have it.

The big oil companies who control leasing of properties for service stations have unlimited funds and make money on both the production and distribution ends of petroleum products.

This is not to get away from the fact that the best corners in each of our communities are turning into asphalt and gas pumps. They are, because the oil companies can afford to pay the price for the best sites in town.

Mobilgas, for instance, just finished paying $55,000 for a site only one block away from another gas station in Lafayette.

This is just too much!

PLEASE, OIL Companies. Have some mercy on us! Don't put in any more gas stations. There will obviously be a need for more in the future as the terrain changes due to freeway construction and road re-routing.

But that time is not now. We've got more gas stations than we know what to do with. We'll bet that every resident out here feels the same way, and also that your present station operators won't exactly go home broken hearted.

We started to count all the gas stations in Lafayette and Pleasant Hill and ran out of ties and fingers before we had even started.

We've been using eye wash ever since to get the glare of the neon signs out of our eyes.

SO PLEASE, again, oil companies. We like your gas. We've got 100 octane, or 50 octane, or something, in the car right now, and we're not advocating returning to the electric car.

If we did we'd probably have charging stations on every corner.

All we want is STOP.

We quit. We've had enough!

Support A Good Man . . .

Richard J. Mitchell of Walnut Creek is a candidate for director of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, representing Ward I, and will appear on the ballot on November 4.

He is the only candidate in Ward I who lives east of the Berkeley Hills, and consequently, is our only choice for any kind of direct representation.

This is not to say that we should support him only because he lives here.

MITCHELL HAS a fine record of community service over the past few years. Some of his activities include:

Director, Central Contra Costa Sanitary District. Director, Walden Improvement Asociation. Charter member, Planning League of Contra Costa County and Pleasant Hill Civic Council.

Past president, Gregory Gardens Improvement Club, and other related activities.

Mitchell opposes the $16 million bond issue which will appear on the same ballot and will vote in favor of the exclusion of the areas of Contra Costa County which want out of the district.

He opposes substituting publicly-owned buses for Greyhound buses on several local routes and wishes to encourage cooperation with the five-county Bay Area Transit District.

MITCHELL WILL operate to protect our interests and will provide representation on the board. He does not believe that we belong in the district, but if we must stay in it we should have representation.

Mitchell is thoroughly familiar with the problems of our area and has spent many years here. He is a well-qualified man and would serve the area well.

It would be difficult to find a better candidate for the post. The Sun heartily endorses Mitchell in his efforts to attain the post and recommends that each voter support him at the polls on November 4.

He is a good man for the job.

Could It Be Worse . . . ?

By DICK OSBORN

Did you ever stop and think how tough the other guy has it?

Man, you've probably got a swingin' deal compared to your next-door neighbor!

What brought this to mind is a series of conversations (mostly overheard—I've got big ears) held over the backyard fence and at various meetings it has been my obligation to attend.

To put it on a personal level, there's nothing for sheer obstinacy like a typewriter ribbon. You can resign yourself to being black for a couple of days after changing one of the critters.

Well, put it this way. I have a couple of good friends in the office equipment business.

DID YOU EVER stop to think of the mammoth headache they must have with typewriter ribbons. I mean, taking care of one is traumatic, and a whole shop full must make you hate yourself when you get up in the morning.

And there's the problem of keeping all the plants in the house watered. Think of the poor florist. He must just turn on the sprinkler system inside and then bail out the shop in the morning, I don't know.

And we'll all admit that a carpet is a very handy thing to sweep a little dust under now and then, but how about all these shiny new businesses with tile floors? No place to sweep the leavings. Frustrating, that's what it is.

FUNNY THING about it all is that you don't hear people running around crying about all these little things. You go to a chamber of commerce meeting, or talk it up at your service club, and everybody's cheerful.

Maybe they just don't realize how bad things are. Maybe if we all sat down and thought about all the problems we've got, we whip out for a can of the old Black Flag and finish it off right now.

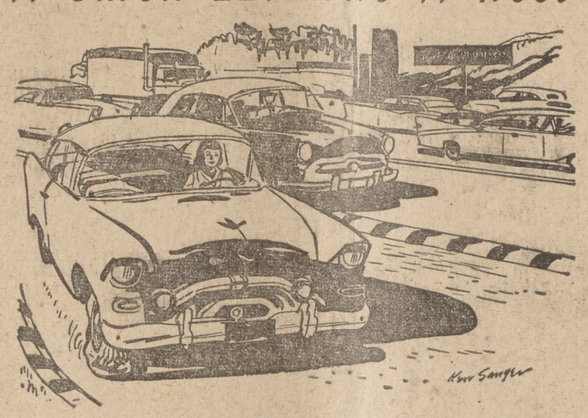
I've seen a lot of irate people with flat tires, but did you ever think of the tremendous headache of changing one of those inflated monsters on the big dirt-hauling rigs that are building our freeways?

FRANKLY, IF it were mine and got a flat tire I'd just turn it in on a new model, like with the car when the ash tray gets full. (Maybe they fire the driver if he gets a flat tire, I don't know.)

It's just a thought, and maybe that's why everybody is smiling all the time. Every time they get a problem of their own they just remember that it could be worse.

I dunno.

Women At The Wheel



FREEWAY BREAKDOWNS—In case of a freeway breakdown, your course of action should depend on how heavy traffic is, advises the California State Automobile Association. If practicable, get pushed to the right-hand side of the road, but if you're in the left lane and traffic is dense, the center divider strip should be utilized. Under no condition should you walk across the freeway. And remember, in case of a flat tire, it's wiser to ruin the tire driving to a safe area rather than stopping in a dangerous place.

Toothpaste Getting Harder To Squeeze These Mornings

By JOYCE BARNUM

The toothpaste has been a little bit harder to squeeze from the tube these last few mornings. This could indicate a number of things. Could be that the toothpaste supply is running low, but it's not. It's almost a new tube.

Or it could be that the kids are right. Of course I'm getting older. But while I'm aging rapidly and steadily, I haven't weakened that much during the past week.

INSTEAD, it does mean that fall is here. People rely upon varied methods of observing the change of seasons. Mine, almost always infallible, is to judge the ease with which the toothpaste squeezes from the tube.

We're entering the autumn phase now, very definitely. This follows the long summer season when the paste gushes forth from the tube at the lightest squeeze. Autumn requires a little more effort and it's not as wasteful a season as summer, when I am apt to get more toothpaste than I really want on my brush. In winter I'm downright thrifty in the amount that I use, it's that much harder to squeeze it out.

MANY PEOPLE observe the coming of autumn when the leaves turn from green to brown and fly through the air onto their lawns. This is a good and undisputable sign. Any day now we will begin to rake and burn these autumn leaves and our lawns will look neat. Then a gust of wind comes along and the whole process can be repeated many times daily.

The air is becoming crisper both morning and night. Right away we begin to think of wearing something warm to football games and building fires in the fireplace rather than the barbecue.

Other people observe the change of seasons by watching birds. I have peered quite closely at the birds which inhabit our trees. They're the same old birds that have been here for quite awhile onw. They'r estill rushing out to take baths in the puddles formed by the sprinkler when we water the lawn.

Birds won't do this when autumn is in full swing. The water is too cold and they know it. Just how they know it, I often wonder. But since they don't use toothpaste, it must be pure, native instinct.

OUR DOGS are totally lacking in this pure instinct. They are only bewildered by the change in seasons. Where they have been quite content to spend the morning and evening hours in the great out-of-doors, they are determined to be in the house at these times.

They not only lack instinct, they lack sense. Simply because the door from the patio has been open during the summer, they attempt to enter by the same means now. They crack their heads against the door in the midst of their graceful leaps, stand back shaking their heads and looking dazed.

We have some acquaintances who have a truly brilliant dog. Their dog can UNLOCK their patio door. To further establish this dog's intelligence, it will unlock the door only for members of their family. All others can stand outside that door and freeze while the dog sits and yawns and looks the other way. But let a family member approach the door and the dog leaps up and unlocks the door with neatness and dispatch.

APPARENTLY THE glass in our patio door is good and strong. We hope so. It has been standing up well under the head cracking onslaughts of our befuddled mutts.

To each his own, I always say. Those who prefer tooth powder or liquid dentfrice are perfectly welcome to their choice.

I'll take good old reliable toothpaste. We'll all have gleaming teeth. But I'll also have an almost infallible method for predicting the change in seasons.

LET'S FINISH THE JOB!

Letters to The Editor

SCHOOL BUSES

Dear Editor:

It is apparent from the attitudes of the elected members of our school board toward the return of bus service on dangerous Moraga Road and other equally bad sections that these people simply do not have the welfare of our children at heart.

How can they, in this area where there are no facilities for pedestrian traffic, divorce the school bus service from the entire education picture? People in this age rely on cars almost entirely and it is neither realistic nor fair to expect children, particularly young children, to walk to school as their grandfathers did.

The school board obviously wants to pass the buck to the county now. The time for parents and taxpayers to act is now!

Name Withheld by Request

BAD ROADS

Dear Editor:

I wish you could bring to the public eye one more example of the way our hard-earned taxes are being wasted by poorly designed road work. I have in mind the recently opened section of highway frontage road between Castle Hill Road and Crest Avenue in Walnut Creek.

For weeks we have been laboring under the hazard of a completely blind intersection which they said was a necessary evil during the time of construction. Now, with the opening of the permanent frontage road, there is found to be a completely unnecessary hump or hill in the road. This obstructs the view for all oncoming traffic.

The former frontage road was quite level at this point, and there is no obvious reason why this new road should be humped in this manner. True, there is a double line at that point, but some rushing driver is going to ignore that for sure. I thought the purpose of new road construction was to eliminate hazards, not create new ones!

I predict that within a few years they will dig out this latest creation and we will have to watch them waste more dollars tearing out something that should not have been built in the first place.

STANDISH J. WATSON, M.D.

CANDIDATES NIGHT

Dear Editor:

The League of Women Voters, which is a national non-partisan organization devoted to good government, is always happy to cooperate with other interested citizens and civic groups who want and are willing to work for improvement in all phases of our political life.

It is most important to our organization that all candidates' meetings in which we participate be handled in a non-partisan manner. We have no doubts whatever that the candidates' meeting to be held at Acalanes High School on October 29 (and which you very generously asked us to co-sponsor). will be non-partisan in its handling; however, non-partisan to the League means that no endorsement of any candidate is made by anyone who is co-sponsoring the event.

The League of Women Voters never at any time endorses or opposes a candidate for office; it may choose to oppose or endorse an issue but only after careful study by the entire membership and then reaching a consensus on that issue. Because The Suns have publicly announced an endorsement of a candidate who will appear October 29, we must regretfully withdraw as a co-sponsor of this candidates' meeting.

The League ofWomen Voters in no way denies the right of any newspaper to make such a decision but, in fairness to the members of our League and to avoid any embarassment either for your newspapers or to the League of Women Voters, we must withdraw.

Our members, of course, as interested citizens, will certainly attend your candidates' meeting and we wish you a most successful evening.

MRS JOHN H. SELLEY,
President,
LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS.

RECKLESS

DEAR EDITOR:

WHEE! It was fun when we were kids coasting down the hills in our coasters and bikes. There was something exhilarating in wooshing down hill at full uninhibited speeds. And no one objected to this natural outlet for kids to play out their stored energy.

But many of these kids, now physically but not mentally grown up, are still coasting recklessly down hills. Only now they are using automobiles. Were these so-called licensed drivers mentally mature they would realize that it takes up to three times as long to brake a car on down grades as it does on the level. And I am talking of drivers of all ages—not only teen agers, but also of their supposedly more sensible parents.

There are often children playing at the foot of the hills, and I only hope that a few people recognize their own shortcomings in this warning. I only hope it registers in time to slow down our "coasters" and protect our children who must necessarily walk along the streets because of our lack of sidewalks. "A minute lost is all it will cost."

MELVILLE D. SHINE.

Under The Sun

The Sun Recommends Judge Mosk, Ray Taylor

BY HERMAN SILVERMAN

It won't be long folks! The general election is only a few weeks away—so let's talk politics again today.

The Sun is not going to recommend candidates for state and national offices. I must however, put in a plug for Judge Stanley Mosk, democrat, running for attorney general against Congressman Pat Hillings, republican. Sound, honest and efficient law enforcement are essential to good government and that is why I want to state my views on this race.

Assemblyman Caspar Weinberger of San Francisco would have made a wonderful attorney general. He was narrowly defeated in the GOP primaries by Hillings' southern California vote. I met Hillings before the primaries and briefly discussed his qualifications and views.

Mosk has good support

Last Friday I sat down with Judge Mosk to learn his views. He impressed me as a very able, serious, personable man, who would be an excellent attorney general. This was later confirmed by a high Bay Area judge who knows Mosk and his background. I now learn that the San Francisco Chronicle and News have endorsed Mosk.

These papers are not as frank as several influential republicans who flatly state that Hillings would make a poor attorney general. And that, too, is my opinion.

And in this corner . . .

Now let's look at the race for supervisor in Supervisorial District 3—a little of Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Concord, Martinez. Incumbent Ray Taylor is being challenged by Concord City Councilman Tom Coll, a young attorney.

This will probably be a close race. Eight years ago Taylor was re-elected over Arnold Bjork by less than 300 votes. A real strong candidate should have no trouble beating Taylor.

I don't know whether or not Coll can do it. Taylor has the edge, depending upon who gets the votes that were cast in the primary for Goheen and McIntosh. If they were protest votes against Taylor, Coll could very well win. If, however, those people decide that they'd rather vote for Taylor than Coll, well, the incumbent will win. In the primary, Taylor led Coll by 2,240, with Goheen and McIntosh collectively getting 10,456.

Many people do not think that Coll is as qualified as Taylor. Taylor knows the county and its problems, they say. These people admit they do not like Taylor as a supervisor but that he would be better than Coll. They declare it will be easier to defeat Taylor four years from now than Coll, if elected. And they aim to defeat Taylor in '62.

I know both men. Both are nice guys. I interviewed Coll at some length last week. I have had several opportunities recently to talk to Taylor.

No grasp on the problem

In my opinion, Coll does not have a constructive or even critical approach to what our county government needs. He does not offer a program. His main pitch is the county should set up an agency that will help the Contra Costa Development Association and various chambers of commerce bring in more industry to help broaden the tax base.

I pointed out that the county already finances the Development Association to the tune of nearly $50,000. Beyond this suggestion, Tom has nothing to offer to improve county government. He says he may find out many more things—if he is elected.

Well, that leaves us Ray Taylor. He has not been a good supervisor in many, many ways. This is a mild criticism of Taylor. I'll restate: He has been a poor representative in many, many ways. Look at flood conditions in the Pleasant Hill area. Ray Taylor has been a long-time resident of this county; he knew that Gregory Gardens and the other areas flooded every year; he permitted the vast construction of thousands of homes without making the developers construct flood controls.

And another thing

Taylor has constantly refused to act on suggestions of two Grand Juries, Pleasant Hill Civic Council and the sheriff to control or prohibit pin ball machine gambling and draw poker parlors.

I could go on for two pages with the wrong things Taylor has "accomplished."

And yet, The Sun is recommending Taylor for re-election. Illogical? Yes, I agree. But Taylor is better qualified for the post than Coll. Then, look to four years from now.

Circle your calendar—The Sun's Candidates' Night, Wednesday October 29, Acalanes Gym, 8 p.m. sharp.

See you next week.

EXEMPTIONS

Dear Editor.

In the "Letters to the Editor" Column on October 3, the following paragraph is quoted from a resolution adopted by the State PTA in support of Proposition 16:

"This action is based on a long history of opposition to various kinds of tax exemptions which would narrow the tax base and possibly threaten funds for public education now or in the future."

I am afraid that our pious State PTA organization is somewhat less than consistant in their position. I have yet to hear that the State PTA has taken a position against Veterans' Exmptions — a bit that is considerable.

Just to keep the record straight, the most recent (1956-57) Annual Report of the State Board of Equalization lists, for the total state, the following amounts involved in assessed value exempted for various causes:

Veterans Exemption	$930,057,000
Church Exemptions	155,614,000
Hospital Exemptions	68,000,000
College Exemptions	66,251,000
Schools below college level	53,225,000
Other welfare exemptions	51,031,000

The Veteran's Exemption cuts funds for public education by 17½ times as much as the schools below college level. Would the State or Local PTA be kind enough to show the 17½ stronger action they are taking on this exemption in line with their "long history of opposition?"

BOB KAHN.

THANK YOU

DEAR EDITOR:

We would like to say "Thanks" to the sponsors, cast and helpers of Laf Frantics for an evening of wonderful fun. We think they are doing a great job and we think the family night is a dandy idea. It was a first live show for our youngsters and they were very enthusiastic.

THE CHARLES BEST FAMILY.

PUTTING ON ZE DOG will be the theme of a luncheon fashion show Thursday at Happy Valley Inn in Lafayette under the direction of the Walnut Creek Women's Club. Preparing for the show are, left to right, Mesdames James F. Bailey, Arthur Leonard and Barney Gilbert. That flashy little car is a Maseretti, with which you can "put on ze dog."—Sun photo by Richard Morse

'Putting On Ze Dog' Is Women's Club Show Theme

"Most women have within themselves a yearning to travel to Paris and spend the afternoon in an exclusive French dress salon viewing the ultra in new fashions," Walnut Creek Women's Club members agree. So, they have made plans to "give each woman this opportunity," on Thursday.

A luncheon fashion show "Putting on Ze Dog" Fashions a la Parisienne under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Downs, will be presented.

UPON ENTERING the Happy Valley Inn in Lafayette at 12 noon, members and guests will be surrounded by the French influence of poodle dogs, perfume, the decor of a French designer's shop, French maids, and the carefree attitude of gay "Paree."

The clothes shown will be from a number of Walnut Creek shops with Mrs. Barney Gilbert as co-ordinator. Mrs. Leonard P. Worthington, commentator, assisting.

Apparel will be featured that each and every woman can wear," said Mrs. Gilbert.

"Types of figures, hair and skin tones, age, and heighth will be taken into consideration so that each one will find fashions of interest.

The style show will open with early morning attire of brunch coats and roses and continue on with house dresses, casuals, sports wear, daytime and street clothes.

APPAREL FOR more elaborate affairs and late afternoon, and will be climaxed with cocktail and formal wear.

A display of luxurious furs and live French poodles in various sizes and colors will be featured with the models. Even the dogs will enhance the showing even more by wearing glittering jeweled collars and brilliant leashes.

The women modeling will be club members. They are Mesdames Jas. F. Bailey, E. R. Bells, Charles W. Dennis, F. C. Hartley, M. E. Heinz, Frank Kupper, George Parmakes, Petrice Ramsing, Geo. H. Richards, Edwin Robinson, C. T. Reichhold, J. V. Shaheazian, N. S. Stephens, Ray C. Turner Sr., Walter E. Turner, C. E. Tate, Carol Young and Marie Maser.

Two members of the Women's Club of Walnut Creek Juniors are representing their group in modeling. They are Mrs. Donald Oliver and Mrs. Glenn Short.

For a Quick Pick Up Grow Herbs in Your Garden

There's no getting around it. Half the fun of cooking outdoors lies in the tantalizing smell of things: of charcoal fire and broiling meat, even the pungent smell of a new-cut lawn or a freshly watered flower bed.

Add to these the smell of garden-fresh herbs and you make any barbecue more fun than it already is.

A few bay leaves tossed on the coals add their subtle aroma to the broiling meat; a sprig of mint makes any iced drink more thirst quenching; crushed oregano, marjoram, parsley or thyme add the right touch to a basting sauce; and garlic, pulled fresh from the ground, has a full, succulent flavor not found in the drying store product.

If you use dried herbs only, you miss the best part. Except for bay, tarragon and sweet basil, most herbs undergo subtle changes or loss of flavor when they are dried.

There's no trick to having fresh herbs right at hand for your barbecue. According to the California Association of Nurserymen, many herbs can be grown easily from seed, and those that can't are usually obtainable as small plants at your neighborhood nursery. If you are cramped for space—a two by four foot area is really all you need—try a portable herb garden.

Most herbs do well in pots and this way can be moved in next to the brazier whenever you fire it up.

As a general rule, the annual herbs such as basil, parsley, chives and summer savory do well from seed. They are often obtainable in pots, however, and will save you time and trouble that way. The perennials, thyme, sage, tarragon, rosemary, marjoram and oregano are more easily started from root cuttings, divisions or—most simply—from small nursery plants.

One of the nice things about herbs is that a little will go a long way. One plant or pot of any of the perennials will keep the average family in good supply. A border of parsley will give you enough to keep the neighbors happy. And half a dozen plants of basil yield a summer supply with some to spare.

Herbs grow in most any soil, but if it's neutral or on the alkaline side, and well drained, they will thrive. Give them plenty of sun and water, but beware of wet feet.

Break up heavy soil with a shovel or two of gravel and sand and plenty of steer manure to insure good drainage. Keep the fast growers in bonds by heavy pruning when necessary.

Don't overlook the decorative possibilities of herbs. Ask your nurseryman about the low-growing thymes for a ground cover. Sage can be made to spill attractively over a retaining wall and parsley makes a useful border. Potted herbs fit in where needed for breaking up the sharp lines of a deck or patio.

Where and how you plant them is secondary, however. The important thing is to plant now. Wait longer, and you will miss out on a chance to add real spice to your summer life around the barbecue.

Officers' Ladies Planning Party

Plans for the annual cocktail party, to be held in the near future, were made by members of the East Bay Reserve Officers Association Ladies Club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John D. Riner, 868 Moraga Road, Lafayette.

Roomy but NOT Bulky

Maximum storage space on a minimum of floor space is provided by the Kontur buffet and hutch of the Craddock Furniture Corporation. The Scandinavian-influenced units feature walnut-grained veneer panels encased in elm. Box seats on chairs are available in shades to blend with every color scheme.

Water Early In Morning Say Experts

A few simple rules followed faithfully during the summer should give a gardener a healthy pest-free lawn, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

One of the most important rules is to prevent insect and disease attacks instead of waiting for damage which must be cured. That's the familiar adage about an "ounce of prevention" in specific lawn language.

A monthly application of dieldrin or chlordane spray or dust will prevent one of the worst pests—lawn moths.

A gardener who applies this same spray in a wide swath around his home will free his living quarters of ants, earwigs and other pests during the summer. Directions on package labels should always be followed carefully.

As a general rule, watering should be done before spraying for insects, not after.

There are special gadgets on the market which may be attached to the garden hose for efficient spraying and spreaders to apply in the dry form. Local nurseries carry several brands and sizes.

Controlling diseases in lawns is largely a matter of careful watering. Lawns should be watered early in the day so that the blades dry off before dusk. Other good practices include avoidance of over-watering and occasional aeration of the lawn turf.

If any lawn should develop serious insect or disease damage at any time during the year the gardener should consult his local nurseryman on steps to be taken. Stringent measures required may vary from applying lime to the soil to completely re-working the soil in hopeless cases.

Garden Club Members Plan 'Autumn Tea'

Rush Now To Get Winter Best Blooms

Many gardeners who go all out for summer annuals tend to fold their hands come fall and wait impatiently for spring before they shift into high gear.

However, winter doesn't have to be a bleak period in your garden, consoles the California Association of Nurserymen.

That is, not if you hustle down to your nursery and take advantage of the wonderful winter bedding plants. If planted in succession from now into autumn, these will provide welcome color from mid-winter into spring.

Among the popular winter annuals for mild California climates, you will find calendulas, snapdragons, stock, violas, pansies. The important point to remember in planting any of these selections is that time is a factor.

If you wait too long, it will be too cold to start the tender young plants and you will miss out on the all-important winter blooming period.

The Calendula (or Pot Marigold) is one of the brightest stars of the winter scene. It is a happy choice for massed effects with its brilliant tones of yellow, golds and now even persimmon and pale apricot.

Winter stock is the favorite of many a knowing gardener. Tall, fragrant, beautiful—it will bloom colorfully with no effort on your part over a long period.

Violas and pansies are perky little low-growing flowers, ideal for borders or edgings or anywhere you need a sudden burst of color. With the addition of many new varieties, you have your choice of almost every color of the rainbow.

Since it will be warm when you plant these annuals, it is important to keep them well watered until they are established. Other than that, all of the above selection require no other care except for picking off faded blossoms.

Here Is Your Garden Calendar

1. Keep roses well watered and keep cutting back faded blooms. Remember that roses in late fall depend on the care you give them now.

2. Don't overlook cineraria for late winter and spring bloom. Pot up a few plants and you can enjoy their showy colors on patio and porch or even inside.

3. Container plants of chrysanthemums in full bloom are available at nurseries now. You can brighten your fall garden with their rich autumn tones.

4. Improve bulb beds now for planting next month. Work peat and sand into heavy soils, peat or steer manure into sandy soils. The bulbs respond with bigger and better blooms to this added touch.

5. Lawn moths are still a problem in October. If your lawn is bothered by them, your nurseryman can show you an effective spray or dust to clear them out.

Bright Colors Nice In Autumn

It is doubtful that any point on the gardening calendar more excites the gardener than the day when he first feels autumn in the air.

And if the day is soon followed by richly colored foliage, his excitement is complete.

According to the California Association of Nurserymen, two trees that do color brightly—even in the mild climates near the coast—are Liquidamber and Chinese Pistache. Both are available in nurseries now and will give you color this fall.

Take Your Color Wherever You Go By Potting

If m'lady likes color wherever she goes, why not arrange it for her. There's no trick to potting up a few plants and moving them to the fore when they've come into bloom.

Members ofthe California Association of Nurserymen keep their nurseries colorful the year round this way. Even annuals such as stock and snapdragons can be grown in gallon cans and sunk in the ground when a previous planting has faded.

To be sure, such a program depends on proper timing to keep it going. If the call is for daffodils on your front step in late winter and spring, you'll want to make successive plantings of early and late varieties this fall.

Cyclamen tubers will have to be potted up right away to keep color going where tuberous begonias fade out. And replacement plants for that bed of winter stock will have to be started in gallon cans later this fall. These include all sorts of possibilities; more stock, calendulas, cinerarias.

It's fun to experiment with year-round color this way, but time or growing space may be so limited as to make such a program impossible. In such cases, you need only visit your nursery to find container plants already in bloom and awaiting their proper spot on your terrace or deck, or in your garden.

Right now you can find portable color in all shapes and sizes at nurseries. Marguerites, blooming now as ever, make an ideal tubbed or potted plant when cut back and kept bushy. Tuberous begonias are as happy in pots as in the ground and can be moved wherever and whenever they are needed. Fuchsias will never be more appealing than thy are now and will do wonders to spark up the looks of your deck.

Potted chrysanthemums, especially the reds, yellows and bronzes, can carry the load of autumn color in or out of the house.

When you once start with portable gardening, new ideas for container plantings come fast. Which is lucky, because once you've had color wherever you go, there's no getting along without it.

Coniferous Plants Good For California Gardens

If you long for a cabin in the pines, you're ripe for gardening with conifers. Not the tall forest varieties. Few modern lots are large enough to handle them. We mean, instead, the long list of coniferous garden plants that offer the textures and smells of a forest wilderness without overpowering the landscape.

Take the Mugho Pine, for example. A check with the California Association of Nurserymen shows that sales of this compact, bushy alpine have shot up in recent years. It is a top favorite for terrace and patio plantings where its definite pine-like appearance lends a note of authenticity to the outdoor barbecue.

And on the subject of patio plantings, you can't overlook that conifer of a hundred uses, the dwarf Tamarix Juniper. It can be used by itself to cover broad areas or with any number of other plants. Try it with the similar but taller Pfitzer Juniper, and prune the latter to keep it in bounds.

Look alikes, though one will outstrip the other, are California Incense Cedar and the Arborvitaes. A tall (70 or 80 feet) grower, Incense Cedar could hardly be recommended for the small garden were it not so slow to start its growth. Incense Cedar makes a compact shrub for some years before it takes off skyward.

Arborvitae in many of its forms is handy to have around. Although capable of heights to rival Incense Cedar, the Arborvitaes most widely used are dwarfer recent shrubs. The dwarf Berckman's Golden Arborvitae is a popular example.

After trying the small conifers your longing for the taller ones may overcome your reservations about their need for space. If so, try Monterey Pine. One or two of these in the garden will, indeed, give you your cabin in the pines—complete with the sigh of wind as it rushes through the branches overhead.

Compacted Earth

Compacted earth can play hob with a lawn, and it's not hard to spot a lawn that's being played hob with.

Hard, browned, bald spots are usually the result of compacted soil which water has trouble penetrating.

Your nurseryman can show you a coring tool that will aerate the lawn, let water in. Fertilize lightly after coring and water a covering of steer manure into the holes. You'll notice the difference in no time.

Leaf Spot Is Not Fatal; Try Spray, Cutting

If the leaves of your bearded iris are afflicted with leaf spot, you've no doubt been tempted to rip up the planting and burn it.

Such is the unpleasant appearance of the disease. A less drastic remedy is to spray leaves and ground with Fermate or one of the fungicides you use for black spot.

Two or three applications over several months may be necessary. In the meantime you can lessen the present unsightliness by cutting back tops to five or six inches before you spray.

Delta Zetas To Celebrate In Area Home

The 56th anniversary of the founding of Delta Zeta will be celebrated at the next regular meeting of the Mount Diablo Chapter of Delta Zeta on Wednesday. Delta Zeta now has 125 collegiate chapters and 168 alumnae chapters.

Two national officers, Mrs. Fred Kelleway of Walnut Creek and Mrs. C. W. Brown of Orinda, will be guests. They will tell the members about the national convention they attended this summer in Chicago.

Mrs. James Turre of 843 Avalon Avenue, Lafayette, is the hostess. Mrs. Karl F. Heuer will assist her.

All alumnae members of Delta Zeta are invited to attend this meeting. They may contact Mrs. Turre or Mrs. Heuer.

New Ideas in Gardening Available at Nurseries

The best way to get new gardening ideas is to visit your local nursery. There you may not only see new plants and new landscape layouts, but you may obtain the help and advice of competent garden experts, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Each year many new varities of old plant favorites and several new plant developments are to be seen at local nurseries. New varieties may have different flower colors, shapes and sizes; different growing habits (dwarf, trailing or tree forms, for example) or improved resistance to sun, shade, pests or diseases.

If you are looking for new landscape ideas you may see sample layouts at some nurseries. These layouts illustrate clever ways of using shrubs and trees, using the actual specimens. Many nurseries are prepared to make complete landscape plans showing exactly which plants to place in different exposures around your home.

The advice of local nurserymen can be invaluable when you must select plants for difficult areas such as slopes, awkward corners, places which receive constant sunlight or spots which are in perpetual full shade. The nurseryman's knowledge of local climatic conditions and his experience with the hundreds of plants with which he deals makes him a natural friend for the busy home gardener.

Camellias Give Garden Big Variety

Two very good reasons for selecting and planting Camellias, in addition to their many beautiful color and shade combinations, are the wide variety of flower forms and plant growth habits.

Probably many California gardeners do not realize the many types of blossom and plant forms from which they can choose, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

For instance, there are some eight Camellia flower forms: single, five to seven petals with a cylinder of stamens; semi-double, over nine petals, usually 14 to 20, with central stamens; incomplete double form, many petals and stamens intermixed; complete double, few or no stamens, petals regularly overlapping, incompletely overlapping or arranged irregularly in a convex mass. (As the number of petals increase, stamens become fewer or absent.)

Variations of these four forms include incomplete double variform, incomplete double intermixed, complete double irregular, incomplete imbricated double and regular imbricated complete double, (imbricated meaning overlapping) all of which are rather confusing descriptions. The important thing, however, is that there is a flower form particularly appealing to you.

As for variations in plant growth habits there are bushy, slender, horizontal branching, upright, compact, rounded, slow, vigorous, medium—every way a shrub can grow, so grows the Camellia.

Examples of the flower forms and plant growth habit variations can be seen in comparing Chandleri Elegans with its very large, incomplete double flower and slow spreading growth habit to Debutante with its complete, double, irregular bloom form, its tightly clustered petals and its vigorous, upright growth habit.

Look—Styles HAVE Changed!

The ladderback chair was beloved by our ancestors for its comfort as well as its style. Until it first appeared in the 17th century, backs of upholstered chairs had been made of flat panels or rounded pieces of wood. The slats, resembling a ladder, broke the design monotony and were kinder to the human anatomy than earlier chair backs. A modern version by A. Brandt Co., Inc. is of "ranch oak" with a leather seat and loose cushion.

Here's How To Enjoy Pleasant Yard Perfume

What could be more delightful than to live with your favorite garden smells throughout the year.

To savor the last whiff of jasmine on a summer night before you drop off to sleep, or awake to the smell of freesias on a sunny morning in spring?

Actually, it takes but little effort to enjoy garden fragrance for several months of each year. Any member of the California Association of Nurserymen can show you a dozen or more plants that will do the trick.

To start the year right, every garden should have Daphne odora. Blooming in early January in some gardens, it is intensely fragrant. Daphne is tricky in cool summer areas and needs a warm spot. Elsewhere give it part shade.

The viburnums pick up daphne halfway through its bloom and carry the fragrance into summer months, depending on variety. Since the family does not do uniformly well in all areas, ask your nurseryman about the best viburnums for your garden.

The abundance of fragrant plants for spring makes that season a continuous stretch of exotic odors.

Sweet Olive and its cousin, Delavay Osmanthus are at their peak of bloom from late winter through mid-spring. Victorian Box imparts its heavy and luscious scent on the night air for weeks on end.

And Mexican Orange adds a d-e-l-i-c-a-te orangeblossom fragrance to these heavier scents.

As spring fades to summer, Star Jasmine or Common Jasmine carry the ball. And Gardenia—especially in Southern California—will fill in summer gaps.

There are several other possibilities. The deciduous Chilean Jasmine vine, for one, blooms in late summer. And in Southern California, a bush Orange Jessamine blooms into the football season.

But it takes only a few of those mentioned above to make your friends stop and exclaim: "M-m, your garden smells so nice."

Here are botanical names of some plants listed above: Sweet Olive (Osmanthus fragrans); Delavay Osmanthus (O. delavayii), Victorian Box (Pittosporum undulatum).... Mexican Orange (Choisya ternata) and Star Jasmine (Trachelospermum jasminoides).

Executives To Gather

January 28 and 29 have been set as the dates for the second Business and Industrial Executives Symposium on the Saint Mary's campus, it was jointly announced by Brother S. Albert, F.S.C., college president and J. Frank Coakley, president of the board of regents.

The decision to repeat last year's successful affair was made this week at the quarterly meeting of the Board of Regents, held in San Francisco.

The 1958 conference attracted over 200 leading Western businessmen and scholars for a day and a half of talks and discussions.

Coakley, district attorney of Alameda County, heads a steering committee consisting of Adrien J. Falk, last year's conference chairman; Ralph N. Larson, president, The Morris Plan Company of California; Louis A. Petri, president, United Vintners, Inc.; Frank L. Paganini, president, Security Lithograph Company; Daniel J. McGanney, vice president, Southern Pacific Company; Professor Benjamin A. Frankel, Saint Mary's College; and Brother Xavier, F.S.C., college vice president.

Dwarf Citrus Trees Provide Big Fruit Crop

Modern gardeners can get an abundance of citrus fruit from little space because of the successful development of true dwarf citrus trees. The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that gardeners visit local nurseries to learn the species best suited to each locale.

At maturity dwarf citrus trees reach a maximum of 8 feet in height with a comparable branch spread. The crop yield is large and luscious even when the trees are quite young. Dwarf trees make excellent tubbed plants for porch or patio. Such tubbed plants generally do not grow as large as trees planted in the open ground.

All varieties of citrus are available in dwarf form, ranging from the very familiar Eureka and Meyer Lemons to recent citrus developments such as the novelty Calamondin with its small 2-inch bright orange fruit.

Types of citrus vary widely in their tolerance for cold. The hardiest types include kumquats, mandarin oranges and oranges.

There's Nothing Like a Pansy

If brilliant splashes of winter color are for you, then so is the pansy. In all but the wettest or coldest parts of California, this persistent little pixie will turn a bright face to you through the long winter months.

In fact, members of the California Association of Nurserymen have found that pansies planted now can be kept in bloom from fall through winter and even into spring. Such a performance, however, requires three cultural points that many of us overlook.

Winter pansies like winter sun, but should have some protection from full sun when set out now in hot climates. The advantage of early planting, however, is enough to offset the chance of possible heat stroke.

Early plantings will be established before cool nights can slow them down, and they will assure you of more prolific bloom when winter comes.

Secondly, a well-drained bed is all important for sucess. Slightly raised beds are ideal, but any location that won't leave plants standing in a puddle when the rains come is fine.

Dons Seeking First Win Tonight over Pacifica

Tonight the Acalanes Dons play the Pacifica Spartans under the lights of Diablo High at Concord in an 8 p.m. game.

Pacifica rapped Liberty High of Brentwood last week, 32-7.

The Dons will be seeking their first win of the season as once again they go in as underdogs. Inability to cash in once inside the opponents 20 has cost the Dons the win in each of their three outings.

Coaches Jack Carhart and Buzz Williams have been working their charges overtime to iron out the rough spots.

NO CHANGES in player personnel have been made although Jack Carman is a doubtful starter as he was laid low early in the week by a cold.

The Dons made a better game of it last Friday night than the final 20-6 score, with the Diablo Red Devils winner, would indicate.

Heavily outweighed in the line and in the backfield, the Dons battled the highly favored Devils on even terms throughout the opening quarter with neither club able to get much beyond midfield.

The Dons made the first scoring threat early in the second quarter when quarterback Mike Kritscher intercepted a Diablo aerial and brought it to the Don 48-yard line.

HITTING THROUGH the line and on the ground the Dons brought the ball to Diablo's 28 only to bog down and were forced to kick on fourth down. The punt rolled into the end zone and it was the Devils in possession on the 20.

Seven plays later Diablo rolled to the one-yard line where Acalanes held for two downs only to have the Devils score on the third try when Al Trette rolled around left end on a well-executed reverse. One minute was left in the half when the tally came. Trette kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

The Dons came out for action in the third period, getting back in the ball game on the first play from scrimmage when center Phil Condit grabbed off an aerial from the arm of Diablo's quarterback Lee Grichuhin on Diablo's 45.

ACALANES MOVED to the 32 only to fumble and recover, then fumble again with Diablo's Mike Dowling taking over on the 34.

Diablo put on another scoring drive as they went to the Dons' 24 in three plays and then fullback Jack Kennerson hit over right tackle for the score. Once again Al Trette kicked the conversion.

Acalanes fought back again as they recovered a fumbled punt on Diablo's 40 and with quarterback Mike Kritscher on target with three passes to end Bruce Dodge and a short run by halfback Bob Marello the Dons went to the Devils' 3.

ON THE NEXT play Jack Carmen was thrown for an eight yard loss and the Don machine ran out of gas when Kritscher fumbled on the next play and Diablo recovered.

The Devils started fast again, going to the Acalanes 39 in three plays. A miscue in the Devil backfield found a loose ball and Acalanes end Dewaine Stults capitalized on it for six points when he picked the pigskin up on the 50-yard line and outraced the field to score standing up.

Carmen's attempted pass for the extra point fell incomplete.

DIABLO CAME BACK to score six more points when speedster Gary Casey took the kickoff back 61 yards to the Dons 29 and four plays later he took it on a reverse around right end for the final 17 yards.

Trette's conversion kick missed and it was 20-6.

The Dons got the ball three times in the closing seven minutes of play but fell short of scoring as incomplete passes and fumbles held them in check.

Diablo drove once deep into Don territory only to give the ball up on a fumble.

Halfbacks Al Trette and Gary Casey were standouts for Diablo with their hard and speedy running.

Mike Kritscher was impressive with his aerial game for the Dons as was end Bruce Dodge, who made several fine catches.

DON TACKLE Jim Walker was a standout going both ways for the Dons.

Acalanes held a 10-9 edge in first downs, but Diablo was away out in front with the ground game getting 202 yards to the Dons 29.

Acalanes held a definite edge in the air with 138 yards (11 for 20), while Diablo had 68 yards (3 for 7).

Lomas Knights Play Rams Tonite; Both Undefeated

Tonight the Las Lomas eleven winds up its practice season as the team tackles the neighboring Pleasant Hill Rams.

The dope bucket points to a Knight win. Both elevens are undefeated to date but the Rams have a tie while the Knights have copped their three outings to date in impressive fashion.

Pleasant Hill tripped San Ramon and Acalanes, then played a 6-6 tie with St. Mary's High last Friday.

The Knights have handily won three in a row, downing St. Francis, John Swett and Alhambra High in that order.

Featuring power, with a heavy line and a well balanced backfield, the Knights have been hard to stop.

COACH DeKLOTZ has made some changes with Jim Foreman, who has been playing defensive center, being also moved up to offensive center.

Harold Roger appears to be ready as the middle guard on defense, which means he will relieve Mike Hair or Tom Leonard. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Knights last week put the crusher on the Alhambra Bulldogs in the first half last Friday night when they scored a pair of touchdowns in the first quarter and two more in the second to leave the field with a 26-0 advantage at the halfway mark.

THE BULLDOGS scored a pair of their own in the third quarter but that ended it, and with the Knights using the bench neither club dented the scoring column the rest of the way, and it all wound up, 26-13.

The Knights showed power early in the first quarter when they went 57 for a touchdown. The tally came when fullback Clark Ransome bulled his way for the final nine yards over right guard. His conversion kick was between the uprights.

Later in the same period the Knights were back in the driver's seat as they recovered an Alhambra fumble on the Bulldogs 13. A play up the middle by Ransome brought the pigskin to the 9. Halfback Steve Moore skirted end for the TD and Ransome added the extra point when he faked a place kick and passed to end Jim Sisler.

IN THE SECOND quarter the Bulldogs had nothing but trouble as the Knights kept the pressure on. A drive early in the period brought the Knights 12 yards from pay dirt and Moore made it pay off as he went the distance around right end. Ransome added point number 20 when he place-kicked the conversion.

Late in the second quarter the Knights clinched a 40-yard drive in five plays when Moore rambled around right end to score from 5 yards out with Ransome leading the way.

Ransome's attempted place kick was blocked by Alhambra's Bill Kelleher and it marked the close of the scoring for the Knights for the night.

The Bulldogs growled a bit in the third quarter, when they struck twice. The first touchdown came when the visitors recovered quarterback Don Hopkins fumble on the Knights 20.

THREE PLAYS later they had 6 points when halfback Hal Shepard bucked it over from 4 yards out and the 6 became 7 when Kelleher split the uprights on the place kick.

Another Las Lomas fumble on their own 10 later in the third quarter put Alhambra in possession and they made the most of it with halfback Rich McLaughlin hitting the end zone from two yards out on the third play of the series. A wild pass from center fouled up the try for point.

The Knights line received credit for their fine all-around play with special mention going to tackle Floyd Blower, tackle Dave Weill, end Randy Olson and halfback Jim Hemstalk. Fullback Clark Ransome was an all-around standout with Steve Moore and his three touchdowns tops in the scoring department.

Miramonte High Eleven Meets Livermore Today

The Miramonte Matadors this afternoon will host Livermore High, which last week held San Ramon to a 0-0 draw.

The game will start at 3:30 p.m. and the chances are both teams will be using plenty of players to get a good look at personnel under fire before league openers next week.

THE MATADORS do have another practice game on tap with Antioch on Friday, October 24, when they draw a bye in league play.

The Matadors had a letdown last week, particularly in the secondary defense against passes, and wound up on the short end of a 24-0 score with Albany.

The game, played in the afternoon at Albany, found the home team cashing in on a touchdown in the first quarter, two in the second, and one in the fourth. They did miss on every conversion try, but it made little difference except inthe final score.

Albany's quarterback, Rich Avery, tossed a 30-yard pass-run touchdown in the first quarter and another 23-yarder in the second period.

ANOTHER TOUCHDOWN came in the second period when Albany scored on a lateral.

The fourth and final touchdown came in the second quarter when reserve quarterback John Lowell hit fullback Gene Miller on a 28-yard toss. The winners had 10 first downs and 260 yards to four first downs and 140 yards for the losers.

The Matadors simply couldn't get in gear, and found their aerial defenses down.

Miramonte Coach Don Brooks has been shifting personnel this week and overtime work has stressed pass defense. The Matadors have played but two practice games to date, losing to Pacifica and Albany.

Professor's Crystal Ball Shows Weekend Winners

By SOSS APPLE

The weather has turned cool but the old Professor comes forth with some "red hot" tips for the week's football fare.

Miramonte plays Livermore at Orinda this afternoon. The Matadors have personnel trouble in the backfield which lacks depth and speed. Chalk up a 13-0 win for Livermore.

Acalanes plays Pacifica at Concord. Inability to make sustained drives has hurt the Dons all season long. Pacifica upset the Dons last year. Pick the Dons to do the "upsetting" tonight — the score, 13-6.

PIEDMONT HIGH has been rolling in high gear—in fact, in overdrive most of the time as they have rolled to one-sided wins the past three weeks. Tonight they play the Alhambra Bulldogs at Martinez. The Bulldogs are big but won't cope with Piedmont's finesse. It's Piedmont, 20-0.

San Ramon pasted Brentwood two weeks ago, then bogged down in a scoreless tie with Livermore last week. Coach Marv Ashby has been applying the needle all week long, so it's too bad for Amador tonight. San Roman wins, 27-0.

Las Lomas, undefeated and untied, hosts neighboring Pleasant Hill with a pair of wins and a tie. Experience, weight advantage and home field gives the nod to Las Lomas, 20-6.

IN COLLEGE circles College of Pacific, after a week's rest, goes back to work on Brigham Young to carve out a 28-8 win. The Golden Bears of California arrived with a vengeance last week when they mauled Washington State last Saturday. They gave Utah the treatment at Berkeley tomorrow, the score, 28-0, we hope!

Stanford appears to be in the wrong league and Washington proves it tomorrow, 28-8. Could be I am mad because I picked Stanford to beat Northwestern last week.

The local Junior College, better known as Diablo College, meets and beats Shasta J. C., 28-0. There are the 49ers, who went every direction but forward against the Rams last week. They meet the Bears at Chicago this Sunday and hit the comeback trail, 28-26—Ray Tatum hopes!

A tid-bit — Cincinnati over Xavier, 22-14.

Miramonte Wins In Jayvee Game

Junior Varsity football the past weekend found Miramonte providing the big thrill when quarterback Dick Stark threw a 35-yard strike to left end Bob Welch in the final 10 seconds of the game to post a 13-7 win over Albany.

Other games found Las Lomas chalking up a 27-0 victory at the expense of Alhambra, Acalanes eked out a 14-13 win over Diablo, San Ramon racked Livermore 19-6, while Piedmont dropped a 13-7 decision to Alameda.

In frosh play Las Lomas tripped Miramonte, 13-0, while San Ramon sacked Piedmont 33-13.

Rams Play Tie with St. Mary's

The Pleasant Hill Rams are still in the undefeated class but had a narrow squeak last Friday night when they were forced to come from behind to gain a 6-6 tie with St. Mary's High of Berkeley.

The game, played under the lights of Mt. Diablo High at Concord, found St. Mary's threatening in the opening quarter when they recovered a Ram fumble in midfield. A 15-yard penalty put the Rams back on their own 30.

At this point their defense stiffened as they broke up a pass and in two successive plays threw the invaders back to their own 49 to end the threat.

LATE IN THE second quarter the St. Mary's eleven picked up a fumble by Jim Maples, the Ram quarterback, on the mid stripe and in seven plays drove to the four from where fullback Jim Gillory punched it over with the clock showing a minute to go in the half. The attempted conversion kick was wide.

The Rams came back scrapping in the third quarter and threatened when Maples intercepted a pass on the Ram 42. Four plays brought them to the visitors 25 only to have them hold the line at the 17.

The Rams' next chance to score came in the fourth quarter and this time they made good.

RAM LINEBACKER Pete McMillin recovered a fumble on the Gaels 29 and speedy halfback Tom Webb cracked left tackle for an important four yards. A one yard loss and an incomplete pass found halfback Roger Leonard going for three yards to the 12 from where Maples hit end Pete Jacobsen in the far corner of the end zone for the big six. The try for extra point misfired when Maples was held in a run at right guard.

Neither club got in scoring position the rest of the way and it wound up six-all.

In first downs St. Mary's held a narrow 10-9 advantage. The Rams outgained the Gaels 134 to 95 yards on the ground while in the air the Rams were on the short end, getting 39 yards on six passes to 57 on 13 tossed for St. Mary's.

Tonight the Pleasant Hill Rams rate the underdog role as they meet the Las Lomas Knights at Walnut Creek in an 8 p.m. game.

ST. MARY'S HAD a heavy club, outweighing the Rams better than 25 pounds per man in the line. Pretty much the same situation will exist tonight as the Walnut Creek eleven boasts one of the heaviest forward walls in the Bay area.

Ram Coach Hal Briggs and his aides have reported all hands in top shape, but feel it will take more than that to upset the Knights.

Stress all week long has been on timing of plays and polishing techniques of play.

Special attention has been given to defensive play to stop the Las Lomas power "T" which features two-on-one blocking at the point of attack.

Hardtop Highlights

By JEAN McGUIRE

Tomorrow night at the Contra Costa Speedway, there will be a demonstration of the latest "rage": "Go Carts."

About ten of these little demons will race during intermission of the regular hard-top goes. The program will consist of a 25 lap main event as usual. Time trials start at 7, first race at 8:15.

LAST SATURDAY night Chet Thompson, driving his yellow number 50, came back with a bang.

Chet, who has been absent from the Pacheco oval for several months, won the third heat, the trophy dash, and capped it up with the main event. This is by far the best showing of the season for Thompson, and should put him up a notch or two in the top ten point list.

The surprising thing about last week's program was that none of the top men (Baker, Purdy and Franklin) made the winner's circle.

Hugh Purdy exchanged cars with Lloyd Silacci in order to earn more passing points. (Silacci's 31 had qualified faster, putting it further back in the pack.)

THIS PROVED to be a bad mistake however, because Silacci drove the almost legendary number 30 on to victory in the fourth heat. If a poll were to be taken among the drivers on which car they would most like to have under them, the red and white number 30 would take it by a landslide.

The car has a fabulous reputation.

WALNUT CREEK'S "Wild Bill" Rassett drove his blue 21 better than he has ever driven before! Rassett earned his nickname by consistently flipping, going through the fence, and generally throwing caution to the winds, but if last week was any indication, he's toning down, and may turn out to be a very good pilot.

Bill took second place in the second heat, and sixth in the final with nary a wreck or even a scraped fender!

The Semi-Main event was misnamed last Saturday night. It should have been called the biggest "C" race in history. There weren't enough cars that qualified for the consolation event so they put them all into the semi-main.

C race drivers, as you know are mostly new boys with not so much experience. Of course even a veteran gets out in there once in a while if his car is running sick But there are more accidents in a C than in any other event.

This, plus an overload of 22 cars in the semi made it disastrous.

THE YELLOW flag was thrown for a pile up on practically every lap. The track photographer barely missed being mowed down by a car which was spun off the track and into the infield. Hardly a car emerged unscathed from this event, and while it was a crowd pleaser, it wasn't much of a race.

PH Thunder Team Rams Sparta Nine

Looking something like the University of California's 1937 team the Pleasant Hill Frosh overpowered Pacificia 27-0 October 2.

Next Thursday the Baby Rams meet Clayton Valley at Pleasant Hill in their third contest of the season.

In the game last week the frosh scored on their first offensive play when Loran Speck rolled out around left end for 11 yards. Tom Foster went up the middle for the seventh point.

Jim Stephenson picked off a Spartan pass and returned it 35 yards to pay dirt, with Bob Schreeder getting the extra point.

After Speck rolled out around left end for 15 yards the score stood 20-0 at halftime.

A 60 yard pass play from Speck to Schreeder and the point after by Schreeder gave the Baby Rams a 27-0 victory.

Coaches Tom Webb and Jack Warren commented on the fine linebacking jobs done by Foster, Larry Parkhurst, Rich Mackin, and John Baldwin.

Webb also praised the down field blocking and the interior line play. "We held Pacifica to one first down, which shows the coaches they had good line play," said Webb.

Wolves Play Amador Dons Tonight; Highlanders Tangle With Bulldogs

The Piedmont Highlanders play the Alhambra Bulldogs tonight on the Bulldogs home field, while the San Ramon Wolves are hosts to the Amador Dons. Both games will start at 8 p.m.

Amador has yet to win a football game, and San Ramon played a 0-0 tie last week with Livermore.

On comparative scores to date, however, rooters for the Wolves should have something to cheer about tonight.

Piedmont's Highlanders a week ago walloped El Cerrito, 40-7, while Las Lomas was beating Alhambra, 26-13.

It's the last practice game for both teams and both will be going all out to win.

Orinda Junior Tourney Slated

A tournament for junior members of the Orinda Tennis Club will begin at 9:30 a.m. October 18 on the Miramonte High School courts. Members may bring guests. An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged, and refreshments will be served.

New Tennis Club to Start

The newly organized Diablo Valley Tennis Club will meet a team from Palo Alto Sunday on the Los Lomas High School courts.

This is the opening match for each club in the East Bay Valley Tennis League. Play starts at 9:30 a.m., according to Bob Wiederhorn, team captain.

A team match consists of six men's singles and three men's doubles. This is a Class B league and team matches will continue each Sunday through November.

Diablo Valley Tennis Club was organized during the summer.

Its membership includes some of the outstanding men and women players in Walnut Creek, Concord, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, Alamo and Danville.

The club directors are Fred Draemel, Gene Maroney, Ed Oehischlaeger, Mrs. Joan Phillips and Bob Wiederhorn.

Teenagers Like Casual Shoes for All Occasions

From 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (at least) the new casual shoes will take the teen-age miss everywhere this fall.

Striking a casual note even in shoes for dress wear, new designs are interpreted in colorful, glove-soft leathers with smooth and silky brushed surfaces that accentuate the lean lines of the tapered toe—the silhouette that predominates this season.

Following prevailing teen-age styles in apparel, chemise and trapeze shoes turn up in several versions. T-straps and ties are two of the most popular treatments in smooth leather pumps. Others feature filigree buckles, flat bows or just plain round or V-throatlines.

On flats, particularly, high-riding vamps, cutouts and buckle treatments are popular, with touches of shiny metals used as buckles, hooks and eyes and lace tips.

Brushed leather is emphasized by autumn leaf colors such as burnished reds, greens, browns and golds. Often, too, the brushed leather is accented with touches of smooth leather in matching or contrasting color.

In the dressier flats, the little skimmers are expected to have top billing in every teener's shoe wardrobe. These are shell-type shoes made in soft, smooth leathers with very flat heels and lightweight, flexible leather soles—in a complete range of colors and almost always unadorned.

For sports wear, the lightweight suede oxford with side lacing and the all-leather "sneaker" type shoe are shown in new slim silhouettes that give the foot a neat, trim appearance.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

The first of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center's units to sponsor an art exhibit-tea was the Flicker unit—and, in my humble opinion, its venture last Wednesday was a tremendous success for it was done in such excellent taste.

Oils, water colors, pastels and other interesting media representing ALL styles of painting were on display in the Diablo Country Club's large ballroom. Many local artists were contributors.

Blanch Brody and T. Gardener, both Orindans, and Luis Guiterez of Pittsburg were awarded first prizes in their respective media and second place awards went to Jesse Thomason, Mary Rasmussen and Eleanor Condon. The many visitors selected "John Muir," a portrait by Katy Madsen, as the popular favorite. The affair, which attracted the interest and enthusiastic support of culturally minded localites, will be an annual one—it is hoped.

Some of the hard working Flickers were the Mmes. Robert Fugazi, Richard Olson, S. J. Caruso, Lloyd Lekse, John Mozzetto, Robert Schroder, Howard Burk and Jack Gordon.

Just a few who were there . . .

A few of the guests were the Mmes. Ralph Martin, William Palmer, Larry Dodge, Tom Sorenson, Ed Rowland, Hugh Gordon and Wally Girard. Diana (Mrs. Ed) Coleman looked "Renoir-ish" in a long sleeved brown wool jersey accented with an orange chiffon sash and orange, chunky jewelry—all setting off her glorious red-gold hair. Also looking like a picture was Betty Caruso in royal purple—her chappeau a fluff of purple feathers. Bev. (Mrs. Ken) Boorman was a sunlit dream in all yellow and Eileen (Mrs. Robert) Patrick would have delighted Matisse for she wore a sleek black sheath and huge black cartwheel hat.

During the morning hours of the same day a group of Sunday School teachers gathered at my home for a meeting which was to have been strictly business but turned out to include luncheon and a surprise shower of pink and blue packages for Rosemary (Mrs. Bob) Caldwell.

Present were Faryce Gideon, Lee Fitchet, Wanda Westerman, Helen Blatz, Marie Nelson. Shirley Black, Evelyn Steding, Pat Lanci, Anne Lane, Mary Houghteling and Niki Williams. Niki made the moet luscious high cake iced in pink and trimmed in blue. Tiny babies in tiny cribs were part of the scheme, of course.

The Towhees entertained their husbands at the Diablo home of Ginny and Bob Cuenin on a recent Saturday night. The Cuenin's large new patio was completed just in time or the occasion. Now the Towhees have settled down to serious planning and hard work for their annual "Towhee Tinsel Time" tea will be here before we know it.

As usual the affair will be held at the Diablo Country Club and will be on December 2. Better start making your plans now. It's fun to plan a luncheon with friends and then attend this always outstanding bazaar and top off the afternoon with that luscious persimmon pudding (and coffee) which, by now, has become the trademark of this tea.

An interesting approach to history

Carol and Richard Leland, with their two teen-age children, Kitty and Mickey, spent one month touring the New England states and Quebec. U. S. history should hold much more interest for the Lelands this year for they visited relatives in Washington, D. C., where they attended a session of Congress. They also visited the U.N. building in New York and were able to take in the secretariat building as Carol had a donation to present to UNICEF. Mickey and Kitty climbed to the very top of the Statlue of Liberty.

Yale campus and Brown University in Rhode Island were also visited followed by side trips which took them to "Mystic," a reconstructed seaport,, Boston, Concord, Lexington and the Bay of Fundy in New Brunswick. The Lelands report that Quebec seemed to be an entirely foreign country. They visited the Citadel where they witnessed the changing of the guards which is much like that at Buckingham Palace with all of its pomp and ceremony. The return trip was by way of Niagara Falls and Chicago.

Angie and Joe Lateana of Lafayette celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary by inviting around 100 or more friends to an open house. Many of the guests had attended the wedding ceremony back in 1933.

The Larks, of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, held their first meeting of the year at the home of Marge Ageno who also presided as acting president in the absence of Marge Warburton who is recuperating from surgery. On the Lark's agenda are a rummage sale on October 11, a party for active members and their husband on October 4, particpation in the Christmas Gift Box and, of course, the annual fabulous "Mardi Gras" in February.

Esther Marchant opened her lovely home for the Springhill School PTA tea. It was a wonderful chance for the mothers to get acquainted as well as to meet the faculty and the new principal, Mr. Hagen.

An unusual party with a pig

The Art Peters of Janet Lane, Lafayette, gave the most lovely and unusual party Saturday night patterned after the famous Hawaiian luaus. Their home and gardens were miraculously changed into a tropical paradise with a great abundance of flowers. Many of the guests wore leis, one of the most outstanding being the hearts of orchids worn by the hostess.

As the guests arrived, 78 in all, they were given name tags and immediately ushered to the huge barrel of punch in which gardenias floated. Appetizers were served on large trays decorated with more tropical flowers. Portable braziers were blazing and from these came a constant flow of delicacies. No luau is complete without the main dish—a barbecued pig.

The young suckling was filled with hot rocks and placed in an imu, or pot, with banana and ti leaves covering the coals. Prayers were offered by Mr. Peters just prior to removing the fragrant meat and, much to his joy and relief, it was cooked to perfection.

After the feast, hi-fi music poured out from speakers in every direction and there was dancing under the Hawaiian lanterns on the outdoor patio 'til the wee hours.

Mrs. Juanita Benoy is spending a month at Sea Cliff where she and her husband, Charles, have rented a cozy beach cottage. Charles will spend weekends there as will their daughter, Suzanne, with her husband, "Chris" Christiansen and adorable daughter, Pamie.

Getting around up north . . .

Nanette and Joe Briley (that wonderful sister-brother team of Sun Valley, Walnut Creek) have returned from a hugely enjoyed trip through northern California, Oregon, Washington and Vancouver.

They especially enjoyed an eight day visit with friends who live on Puget Sound and, daily, made interesting trips to all parts of that lovely country.

Just "happened" to be invited to many functions that took place during their stay—the most interesting being a salmon barbecue by one small town's fire department. Wish I could go into a description of their methods of barbecueing but 'twould take a full page. The Brileys entertained friends the other night with a baked ham-bean dinner and treated them to a revue of their colored pictures.

Thousands Visit Broadway During Birthday Party

"Thousands of visitors were thrilled last Friday night during the first portion of the Broadway Shopping Center Birthday Party," according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"As a kickoff to our celebration, which will continue through October 18, we featured the Guckenheimer Sour Kraut German Band and passed out thousands of pieces of cake and cups of coffee to our many visitors," the chairman of the sponsoring organization said.

INSIDE CERTAIN pieces of cake were merchandise orders to participating stores wrapped in aluminum foil. The cake was baked by Stinnet's Pastry.

"In all," Webster noted, "there was $400 worth of merchandise orders baked right into the many sheet cakes and the huge Broadway Seventh Birthday cake."

SATURDAY, FOUR Broadway Fashion Shows were part of the festivities, Webster commented.

"Again, hundreds of spectators took part in the fashion parades at Goldman's, Joseph Magnin, Elsie's Sportswear and Country Girl," he stated.

Smiths and Grodins displayed men's fashions in all of the events.

Maternity clothes were shown in the Joseph Magnin show by Expectation Shop and sub-teen fashions, as well as children's clothes, were demonstrated in the Country Girl show by Kladezee," Webster said.

"Our celebration of the Seventh Birthday of the Broadway Shopping Center continues until October 18.

"We, of the Broadway Merchants Association, hope that all Contra Costans will take advantage of the many quality items which are offered at special prices by Broadway stores," concluded Webster.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father John Morgan, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Roi Peers of San Francisco, and the bride's other attendants were the Misses Lucy Ann Fish and Ann Day, and Mrs. Tony Petropoulas. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Jamelle Dalton, cousin of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of Georgette chiffon in petal pink with sleeveless bodices featuring softly draped Sabrina necklines, and with harem-type skirts flowing from wide cummerbunds. At the back were satin bows with long streamers, and matching head pieces were small bands with circle veils.

The bride's mother wore a gown of imported lace on taffeta in soft cypress green in the new Empire sheath with chiffon draped at the waist and a flying panel in chiffon from the waistline.

The newlyweds planned a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and in Mexico.

'Football Fashions' Lunch, Show Held by Humpties

At the first meeting of the fall season members of Humpty Dumpty Chapter, Children's Home Society, continued with preparations for the "Football Fashions" luncheon and fashion show to be held Saturday at El Nido, Lafayette.

Decorations were created in keeping with the general theme of a football afternoon. E. Raymond, East Bay artist, sketched a mural to be used as background for the models.

GENERAL chairman was Mrs. Jack P. Davis, who is also ways and means chairman for the chapter.

Assisting here were the following sub-chairmen: Decorations, Mrs. A. T. Wiemken; models, Mrs. A. D. Wickstrom; programs, Mrs. Warren French; tickets and reservations, Mmes. Peter Kane and Richard Moulds; table favors and gifts, Mrs. Anthony Sullivan; publicity, Mrs. Harry Allendorph.

Fashions were presented from Bonnie Warren of Pleasant Hill, with children's and teenage styles by Tots and Teens of Walnut Creek, furs by Harel and hats by Albert's Millinery of Broadway, Walnut Creek. Models' cosmetics by Beauty Counselors.

Models were chosen from among active and inactive members of Humpty Dumpty Chapter, as well as from other Contra Costa C.H.S. chapters.

Guest models were Elves, Concord, Mrs. Charles Bras; Heidi, Lafayette, Mrs. James Newcomb; Pandora, Orinda, Mrs. Conway Smith Jr.; Raggedy Ann, Alamo, Mrs. Thomas Long.

Proceeds from this event will be used to assist in the work of Children's Home Society of California, largest privately-supported adoption agency in the state, which is also a member of the Bay area United Crusade.

Marita Lyon Says Vows In Santa Maria Church

Marita Lyon and Ronald James Smith were united in marriage in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Father David Harrington August 31 in Santa Maria Catholic Church in Orinda.

Marita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Lyon, 251 Overhill Road, Orinda, and Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Smith of San Francisco.

The church was decorated with gale gold, tangerine-centered gladiolas.

THE BRIDE was accompanied to the altar by her father. She wore a floor-length imported white pure Italian silk gown with Basque bodice, scoop neckline, and tiny cap sleeves. The skirt was new Parisian bell-shaped with intermission hemline.

The neckline was appliqued with medallions of Alencon lace repeated on the front of the skirt. The back fullness was emphasized by two wide silk streamers tied in a "court" loop.

Her headpiece was a Juliet cap of matching silk, appliqued with lace and seed pearls. The veil was of imported French illusion, float length. Marita carried a bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Frank Teiche, and bridesmaids were the Misses Heidi Altorfer, Myrna Fulton and Janet Nelson.

THEY WORE cocktail length gowns of "candlelight" iridescent taffeta with scoop necklines, cap sleeves, with the princess line and bell-shaped skirts. Their empire sash were of darker gold taffeta, with matching bandeau headpieces with complexion veils.

Best man was Gary Blatt, and ushers were Paul Derlanleau, Jack Marchi and Roger Martin.

The bride's mother wore a sheath dress with back fishtail, with pale gold taffeta under imported beige lace, a scoop neck, and three-quarters length sleeves. Her hat was of cocoa brown feathers accented with pale taupe feathers. Her accessories were in cocoa brown, and her flowers were bronze orchids.

The groom's mother wore delphinium blue French silk chiffon with wide "V" neck, and a softly draped full skirt. She wore a sapphire blue sequin hat, and her flowers were white butterfly orchids.

THE RECEPTION at Hotel Claremont was attended by 175 guests. Miss Faye Orovitz was in charge of the guest book, and music was by the Dick Dildine trio.

The newlyweds are now at home at 974 Girard, San Francisco, after a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe.

Marita is a graduate of Acalanes High School. Now attending San Francisco State College, she is affiliated with Sigma Delta Gamma sorority, of which she is a past president.

Two of the bride's aunts, Mrs. Frank Gebbia of New York City, a godmother, and Mrs. Edward Rowen of New Haven, Conn., attended the wedding and reception.

The bridegroom, also a student at San Francisco State, is a past president of his fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi.

Walnut Creek Residential Volunteers Ready for Drive

Looking forward to a full and active year, the Walnut Creek Women's Club today announced its schedule of sections.

"The club calendar is carefully planned to stimulate and fill a need for each member," said Mrs. Leonard P. Worthington, "and consequently several sections have been organized covering different interests so that each woman may progress and "keep up with the times."

THE FOLLOWING sections meet once a month on the following days:

First Tuesday at 10 a.m. the current events section and at 1 p.m. the Bible section. On the fourth Tuesday at 10 a.m. the book and literature section and at 1 p.m. the art and garden. These meetings are open to other women of the community as well as members, and guests are welcome.

On the second Tuesday of each month the regular business meeting is held at 1 p.m. followed by a tea and this is the one closed meeting attended by members only. On the fourth Tuesday a luncheon is served followed by a program of talented artists or outstanding speakers.

AFTER THE completion of this calendar, the Women's Club of Walnut Creek felt that "all work and no play makes Jill a dull girl" so the social section was added whereby members could entertain their husbands and friends at a potluck dinner followed by cards or visiting.

Since the official opening of the club year in September for the 1958-59 term there still remain sections who are meeting for the first time in October. The social section meets tomorrow at the clubhouse, 1229 Lincoln Avenue, at 7 p.m. Mrs. Grace DeBonnis, chairman, announced that ham will be served but those attending are to bring salad, vegetables or a dessert.

TUESDAY at 10 a.m. the current events meets and Mrs. Edward Losh, chairman, will introduce Dr. Harlan Zodtner of the University of California Radiation Laboratory who will speak on peacetime uses of atomic energy "Operation Plowshares." Colored movies will also be shown from the Geneva Conference.

At 1 p.m. on the same day the Bible section meets with Mrs. Fred Samm, chairman, and she requests all those attending to bring their Bibles and the first chapter of Genesis will be studied and discussed. Those attending both morning and afternoon sessions are to bring a sandwich and coffee will be provided at noon between the programs.

One hundred and fifty-five thousand pices will be distributed by the members of Mt. Diablo Council in Contra Costa County, Berkeley and Albany.

This special literature, in the form of a news extra, was created by Walt Disney Productions for the California Department of Motor Vehicles. The program is administered by the National Automobile Club and the California Traffic Safety Foundation.

New District Chairmen Named for Girl Scouts

Four new district chairmen of the Diablo Valley Girl Scout Council were welcomed at the first meeting of the season, held at Casita Castona, Scout house, Terrace Way, Lafayette.

Mrs. James W. Dietrich Jr. of Alamo, a former vice president of the Alamo Mothers Club, has been active in both Boy and Girl Scouts —as a den mother and secretary, and as a Brownie leader, intermediate Troop consultant and secretary for Girl Scouts in the Alamo district.

At present Mrs. Dietrich is an intermediate leader of Girl Scouts, active in the Raggedy Ann Chapter of CHS, and not only teaches Sunday School, but also acts as superintendent, and is a member of the bishop's committee at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church in Danville.

Mrs. Roscoe Hughes Jr., Orinda district chairman, is on the board of the Vallecito PTA, active in Scouts for the past few years and is also serving as neighborhood chairman for Scouts.

Mrs. Carter E. Miles, Pleasant Hill district chairman, started in Scouts as a Brownie leader a few years ago, and has since served as assistant neighborhood chairman, chairman of nominating committee for the Pleasant Hill district, and still finds time to be a room mother at school, assist the Volunteer Bureau, and collect for favorite charities, such as United Crusade, Red Cross, City of Hope and numerous others. Mrs. Miles is also corresponding secretary for her sorority, Alpha XI Delta.

War Possible In Two Years, Adults Are Told

Danger to world peace is greater because of issues centering in the Middle East than anywhere else today, even the Far East, members of the Acalanes Adult Center course in Background of the News were told Tuesday evening by Dr. Robert W. Desmond.

Desmond conducts the weekly meetings.

Egypt's President Nasser, inflated by successes during the last two years, and in close working alliance with Soviet Russia, is establishing his leadership of the entire Arab world, he said.

Neither the United Nations nor western economic aid appeared likely to stem this course of events, in the view of Desmond, who foresaw the possibility of a world war, as a result, within two years.

The position of western Europe, in a potential squeeze based on the Middle East situation, will be the topic for examination at the meeting of the group next Tuesday.

Homemakers List Officers, Plan Meetings

The newly organized homemakers group of Home Economists of Contra Costa County held its first meeting recently. Mrs. Eleanor Lister presided as chairman. Mrs. Emil Sakerak, educational director of the Co-op, was guest speaker.

Several women will serve for the remainder of the year. Mrs. Eleanor Lister is chairman, Mrs. Ardith Steger, secretary; Mrs. Jane Giulieri, publicity; Mrs. Barbara Knighton, Mrs. Dorothy Silva, Mrs. Adele Engelbrecht, program; Mrs. Barbara Thomas, Mrs. Catherine Sinnott, membership.

Mrs. Florence Fuller, Mrs. Virginia Swanberg, October hostesses; Mrs. Loretta Wilhelmsen, Mrs. Britta Melchior, November hostesses; Mrs. Dorothy Silva, Mrs. Gertrude Ascher, December hostesses.

Meetings will be held the last Monday of each month either 10 to 11:30 a.m. or 8-8:50 p.m. depending on the type of program chosen. The next meeting will be held October 27 at 10 a.m. in the Co-op meeting room and the children may take advantage of the Kiddie Koral.

Formalized plans will be drawn up at that time. Home Economics graduates from an accredited college are invited to attend.

Therapy Center Holds Seminar

The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center Seminar Tea for prospective members of the Pittsburg-Antioch area was held recently in the home of Mrs. Donald Allen in Lafayette.

Greeters were Mrs. Donald Johnson, chairman of the unit coordinating council of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and Mrs. Robert Schroder, chairman of new units, assisted by Mrs. Norman Tieslau, Mrs. Robert Kuhn and Mrs. Stuart Loe.

At the tea table were Mrs. Arch Campbell and Mrs. Chester Hook of the Linnet unit. Hostesses from the units were Mrs. M. F. Ohman and Mrs. Aldo Vasconi of Robin unit and Mrs. Robert Wisecarver of Towhee unit.

Mrs. Juanita Benoy, administrator of the Center, spoke to the guests of the Center. She stressed particularly that its new location on Golf Club Road brought the Center and its services much closer to the Pittsburg-Antioch area where the handicapped may be more conveniently and adequately served than was previously possible.

Senator Says Rapid Transit Only Answer to Congestion

Freeways alone can not cure the Bay area's traffic congestion according to State Senator George Miller, Jr.

He said a rapid transit system must be built to meet the population and travel requirements of the future. He is convinced of this because of a simple equation: "A two-track rapid transit line equals 40 lanes of freeway."

MILLER SPOKE at installation ceremonies for the Contra Costa County Rapid Transit Liaison Committee in the County Administration Building Monday night.

"Even if we could afford to build sufficient freeways to move everyone in cars," he said, the problems of wider city streets and more parking space would remain.

The cost of an adequate rapid transit system is justified, he said, because "the very economic base of the Bay area depends upon the free movement of people and goods."

HE ADDED, "Freeways gobble up enormous amounts of tax producing land." Automobile congestion means time wasted, higher costs to consumers of goods moved by truck and increased automobile insurance rates.

Miller noted that voters of the five counties within the Bay Area Rapid Transit District will be asked to vote on the proposed system in about two years.

He said, "Your decision will be a simple one—freeways and rapid transit, or freeways and more freeways, but never enough freeways."

THE NEWLY-FORMED committee will assist the district in keeping Contra Costa residents informed of rapid transit developments.

Others participating in the program included Supervisor Ray S. Taylor, Superior Judge Norman A. Gregg and President Clair W. MacLeod and General Manager John M. Pierce of the transit district.

Volunteers, Mrs. Julius Loeb, Mrs. Claude Smith; Canteen, Mrs. George Hearne; First Aid, Mrs. Frances N. Gray; Fund Drive, Mrs. Robert W. Dyer; Gray Ladies, Mrs. Rothrow Dreggors, Mrs. Arthur Webb.

London, Mrs. Francis Lawrence; Public Information, Mrs. Mabel Balensiefer; Staff Aide, Mrs. Howard Adams; Supply, Mrs. Arthur Gordon, Mrs. Leonard Seclef; Water Safety, Mrs. Richard T. Council Representative is Mrs. Isabelle McGeehon.

Ellen Gardner Marries Clark Wilde September 6

A beautiful wedding ceremony for Ellen Gardner and M. Clark Wilde was conducted by the Rev. Robert S. Morse of Berkeley at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Orinda on Saturday, September 6.

Ellen's sister, Carol, was her attendant, and Albert Adams, a fraternity brother, was Clark's best man.

The bride wore a white brocade Princess sheath dress with a Josephine neckline. Her dress-length veil hung from a crown of miniature white satin roses, and she carried a spray of rubra lilies.

Blending with the pink of the lilies was Carol's American-Beauty shade satin sheath dress. She carried a spray of pink Aristocrat roses and also wore an arrangement of them in her hair.

The small group of relatives and friends attending the ceremony went to the home of the bride for champagne and a luncheon. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Gardner, 3312 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette.

The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Gardner of San Francisco.

Ellen attended Oregon State College for two years, where she affiliated with Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. This summer she completed her junior year at the University of California.

Clark, a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity, is in his senior year at University of California. They are residing at 2433 Warring Street, Berkeley.

It's easy to prove, before you buy, which brand of coffee gives you more real value. Shake several brands. Even though all cans are the same size, notice how other coffees rattle, but not M.J.B. It's quiet because it's packed to the brim.

There's more flavor, more measures inside the M.J.B can because our full-flavor roast expands each bean—releases all the rich flavor, and increases the volume, too. As a result, you get 2 to 8 extra measures to the pound. Shake the can—prove for yourself M.J.B is today's best coffee buy!

YOU CAN'T MAKE A BAD CUP OF M.J.B!
